CORONATION CEREMONY CLIMAXES 'MISS BUGLE' CONTEST

LUCINDA STOTT, crowned Miss Bugle, and her court reigned during an evening's program last Friday.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINS FOR QUEEN AND COURT

LUCINDA STOTT, senior, was crowned MISS BUGLE, Friday night, after her class won out in a week's competitive contest in which each grade worked to secure the most subscriptions for the BUGLE.

A program of dance and song for the entertainment of the queen and her court followed the coronation ceremony.

Winning out in second and third places for the title of "Miss Bugle" were Ann Medlin, freshman, and Mary Ann Miller, junior.

OTHER "MISS BUGLES"

The contending Miss Bugles from the first through the eleventh grades were Mary Elizabeth Glover, Janie Patterson, Phyllis Manning, Linda Lee Eatmon, Janet Weaver, Gwendolyn Burgess, Nancy McKeel, Katy June Horton, Martha Lane Farmer, Joyce Thompson, Catherine McKeel, Carolyn Finch, Ann Medlin, Genieve Glover, Lois Thigpen, Mary Ann Miller.

ESCORTS

Each queen selected her escort. These from the first through the twelfth grades were Danny Christian, Harold Brantley, Dick Finch, Harold Patterson, Jerry Bisette, William Stott, Gene

JOURNALISTS TO ATTEND PRESS INSTITUTE

All journalism students and their advisors will attend the North Carolina State Press Institute in Chapel Hill, Friday afternoon and Saturday.

At the opening meeting Friday night, Joseph Murphy, director of the Columbia Socholastic Press Association, will speak.

Lectures and discussions of phases of newspaper work will be heard Saturday morning and afternoon.

The election of new officers for next year's Institute is last on the agenda for Saturday.

Planned for Saturday night is a banquet at the Carolina Inn, at which time John P. McKnight, foreign correspondent will discuss some of his experiences in Europe and South America.

ENROLLMENT DROPS; INCREASE EXPECTED

Answering roll call on the first morning of school was a twenty-five-below-record troupe, reported Principal M. W. Weaver.

Commenting on the reasons for the decrease, Principal Weaver said, "In the elementary grade only forty-one of the expected fifty-five pupils showed up. This is a ten-pupil-drop compared to last year's figure of 393. Our high-school showed a fourteen pupil drop over the 181 figure of last year. The dropping out of many students for marriage or work caused this decrease.

"But," Principal Weaver added, "by the end of this month there should be a better outlook for an increase in our attendance."
