

15 Students Enroll In Dance Class

With emphasis, Mrs. Belle Hinnant, dance instructor, stressed that appreciation of the ballet, one of America's fast growing dances, should be developed as one develops appreciation for good music.

She pointed out that in addition to the tap, acrobatic, and ballroom dancing taught, one classical ballet was included in the year's instruction.

Miss Mary Hinnant, assistant to her mother, studied ballet in New York this summer at the American Ballet School and Fokine's School of Ballet.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCES

Public performances during the year will depend upon requests. The class gave three numbers last Friday night at the Coronation Ceremony. Those participating were Kay Strickland, Celia Pitts May, Bobbie Lou Batts, Peggy Mary Kates, Ann Brock, Linda Strickland, and Keith Vicke.

Other members of the 15-member class are Carolyn High, Betsy Allen May, Carolyn Finch, Lane Farmer, Gwen Burgess, Mary Elizabeth Glover, and Teddy Wayne Whitley.

MONDAY MORNINGS!

Miss Tomlinson in trying to quiet her senior class, turned and said, "I wish you would all get quiet; today is Monday morning and I'm worn out. "She hastily gave her going to the State-Carolina game as an explanation.

Principal Weaver Reports To Parents

The Principal's Column this month might well be called "Rambling Thoughts." There are several things that need to be known from and about the school.

First, attendance is off this year. This is especially true in the high school. Attendance in the grades is almost up to previous years. The enrollment in high school is thirteen below the end of the first month enrollment last year. It will be necessary to maintain good attendance in order to keep the teachers now assigned to the school.

PUBLICATION OF BUGLE

The appearance again of the Bugle after a two year lapse is good news for everyone. Publishing a school paper requires a lot of work, and the patrons and students owe a debt of gratitude to the journalism class.

The school lunch room is operated on a non-profit basis. Serving lunches for 20 cents each and balancing the budget at the same time presents something of a problem. Parents can

Principal Assigns Chapel Programs

Draft measure became necessary, reports Principal M. W. Weaver, in order to get chapel programs assigned regularly.

Starting with the seniors, the draft will come down through the grades. "The program is to be left entirely up to the students," said Mr. Weaver.

help in this situation by requesting free lunches only when there is real need. In too many cases, requests for free lunches come when the child, the parents, and the school would profit if no such request was made. There are instances when free lunches are needed, but please request them only after other efforts have been exhausted.

X-RAY

A free X-Ray for T. B. will be available at the school on October 13, 14, 17, 18. The unit will be in a trailer located near the baseball diamond. The hours are from 11:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. Every person 15 years of age and older is urged to get the X-Ray.

Laboratory Serves As Projection Room

Because of the need for the old projection room as a class room, the laboratory has been equipped to serve in a dual capacity, projection room and science laboratory.

The school receives its films from the county film library in Nashville. In order to obtain a specific film at a specific time it is necessary for a teacher to book the desired film several weeks in advance.

Already the geography class has seen three films, Wheat Farming, Southeastern States, and Southwestern States. Mrs. Laurine Lassiter, geography teacher, has several more booked for her class to see during the year.
