

Full Year Greet Home Ec. Students

Publishing a yearbook, initiating freshman girls, and attending camp and club meetings are among the activities that the home economics students have done or will engage in during the year.

Students Publish Book

Future programs, the creed, officers, chapter mothers, and committees for the entire year are featured in the F. H. A. yearbook, published by Mary Ann Miller, Margaret Glover, Elda Rae Bailey, Mary Lou Lamm, Jackie Lamm, Kaye Ferrel, Cathrine Brown, Shirley Brantley, Barbara Rhodes, Pansy Murray, and Barbara Lamm.

The purpose of this book is to better inform the students of the duties and importance of the F. H. A. club.

Freshman Girls Initiated

Straw hats, clashing colors, and no make up were noticeable features of the freshman initiation September 22.

Seven Attend Camp

Under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Rouse, seven girls--Doris Faye Lamm, Jackie Lamm, Judy Finch, Clara Lou Stott, Jackie Bragg, Jan Perry, and Fanny Lou Manning attended F. H. A. camp at White Lake during the summer.

The girls were taught crafts, swimming, and many other useful arts.

Allowing the boys from

Goldstone to visit each night from seven to nine o'clock was one of the privileges permitted the girls.

"The most unusual thing that happened," declared Mrs. Rouse, "was our awakening one night with the rain beating on our faces." She later commented, "They were the most well behaved group that I have ever been off with."

Club Elects Officers; Chapter Mothers

Mrs. Rupert Perry, Mrs. Robert Finch, Mrs. Drexel Webb, Mrs. Eulum Glover, and Mrs. George Thigpen were chosen as the chapter-mothers of the Bailey F. H. A. club.

Club officers are Mary Ann Miller, president; Fanny Lou Manning, vice president; Jan Perry, secretary; Kaye Ferrel, treasurer; Shirley Webb and Carolyn Bissette, song leaders; Romaine Thigpen and Evelyn Bates, club historians.

Screens Shut Out Flies

Flies have found it difficult to get in the home ec. room since Mrs. Frances L. Rouse has had screens put up this year.

Mrs. Rouse thought it would be much more sanitary if screens were added to keep flies from swarming in on the food.
