

B. H. S. Sends Two Queens to Harvest Festival

Jane Morgan and Beverly Jane Tapp, seniors, were Mt. Pleasant's and Bailey's queens in the Nash County Harvest Festival held in Nashville, Wednesday.

Each community and town in the county selects its queen to compete for the Harvest Queen.

In recent years Ruth Farmer and Mildred Finch, alumnae, have participated in the Festival. Ruth was queen in 1948 and as a result won a $100 check.

Enrollment Increasing

By gradually increasing, enrollment for the school the second month is nearly up to par with that of last year's.

At this period last year there was enrolled in the elementary grades 394, membership 393. The records today show an enrollment of 393, membership 387, or only a six-point difference.

In high school last year the second month's enrollment was 181; this year, 176, or a five-point drop.

Boykin To Return Soon

The student body and faculty were deeply grieved at Cornelius Boykin's accident, the cutting of his hand and the arteries of the wrist as a result of a fall on the wet concrete.

After receiving medical attention in the hospital for several days, he is reported to be recovering speedily.

Everyone is hoping to see Cornelius, the freshmen president, back in school soon.

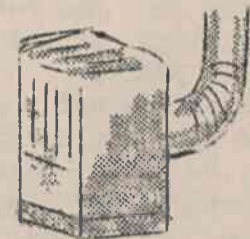

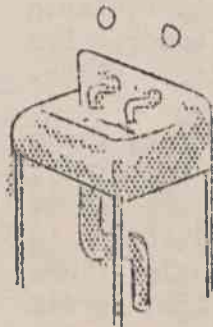

To end the all day festivities, a banquet was given followed by a street dance.

This event, sponsored by the Lions Club of Nashville, has been held annually for the past three years.

CORRECTION

Evelyn Poole is a junior at Duke, not a sophomore as reported in last month's paper. This paper is always glad to make corrections whenever attention is called to an error.
