

F. H. A. Entertains With Party

At the request of fellow F. H. A. students, Lois Jean Medlin consented to be host to 33 home economics girls with a party in her home.

The homemakers were served punch, cup cakes, a variety of mints, a cocktail mixture of nuts, and potato chips.

"Poor Kitty", "How Do You Like Your Neighbor", and "Rhythm" were among the games played.

Mrs. George Thigpen, a chapter mother, entertained the girls with some old fashioned love songs which she played on the piano.

Judy Finch, Mary Ann Edwards, and Jan Perry were in charge of the games.

Club Completes Book

F. H. A. Yearbooks, portraying chapter activities and committees, have been completed.

The Yearbook contains officers, chapter mothers, flower, motto, creed, committees, and programs.

The book will inform the faculty and members more about the purpose of the club.

The Yearbook committee, under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Rouse, was composed of Lois Thigpen, Doris Murray, Catherine Brown, Margaret Glover, Kay Ferrell, Mary Lou Lamm, Mary Ann Miller, Jackie Lamm, Elda Rae Bailey, Shirley Brantley, Barbara Nell Rhodes, Pansy Murray, and Barbara Nell Lamm.

Bailey Gains Doctor; Son Enters B. H. S.

Dr. John F. Gibson, Jr., Bailey's new medical doctor, who begins his practice here after eleven years of experience, entered his son John in Mrs. Jake Wright's fourth grade last week.

Dr. Gibson, who previously practiced in Tazewell County, Virginia, and whose home town is Birmingham, Alabama, has studied extensively in Virginia, Maryland, and Pennsylvania, specializing in pulmonary diseases.

Beginning a ten years' course of medical study, he attended preparatory school in Lynchburg, Virginia, followed by pre-medical work at the University of Scranton in Scranton, Pennsylvania, and further schooling at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond.

He also took a six months post-graduate study of surgery in Scranton. Dr. Gibson practiced industrial and general medicine in the coal fields of Virginia. In the Far View State Hospital of Pennsylvania he studied neural psychiatry. Eight years and nine months of postgraduate work was completed in the State Health Departments of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia by Dr. Gibson.

Dr. and Mrs. Gibson and family are now living with Mrs. A. A. Creech in Bailey.
