

Class Becomes Pronunciation Conscious

Displayed in color across Mrs. Howard Farmer's board are words: they, the, with, heard, don't, ought, get, didn't, through, and others commonly mispronounced.

The tenth grade English Class decided that they were abusing several words.

To correct this mispronunciation habit, they made posters of different colored cardboard with the words on theme and tacked these posters around the blackboard as constant reminders.

To further strengthen the will to improve, this class made such posters as Practice Makes Perfect, Listen for Incorrect Pronunciation, When You Speak Someone Judges You, Listen to Learn, and Have a Good Vocabulary.

Juniors Select Class Statistics; Sell Turkey

Selecting their class statistics for the next two years was one objective of the junior class this month.

Statistics adopted were class colors, blue and white; class motto, "Work and Win;" class flower, daisy; mascots, Kay Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Strickland, and Joey Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bailey.

As the second objective, the junior class held a turkey sale at the Bailey gym Monday night in order to help defray the expenses of installing a public address system in the auditorium.

Second Grade Enjoys Toy Circus

As a part of their dramatic play activities, Mrs. Ruldolph Glover's second grade students entertained themselves in their room with a toy-circus composed of trick animals owned by the students.

"The children enjoyed the toy-circus so much," stated Mrs. Glover, "that we gave it a second time on the playgrounds."

A hen that lays eggs, a rooster that crows, a frog that talks, a goose that pecks corn, a horse that runs, a parrot that can jump through a ring, Pluto, the dog that barks, and a duck that swims were donated and operated by the children.
