

Your Date??

Dating is a period when two personalities and characters test each other.

Some have got the idea that a date is the ideal time to yield to one's undesirable impulses. Really on a date one should feel a greater sense of respect and courtesy towards his or her companion than is normally felt at school or at home. A person doesn't have to become unnecessarily familiar with his date to attain popularity or to get a second date.

The boy, contrary to the belief of many, is not always responsible for the improper conduct too frequently observed while dating or heard discussed about dating. Often the girl is more forward in her actions than is the boy. Girls should remember that a girl of questionable character is more severely criticized by the public than is a boy. Boys should realize, however, that the public is more and more coming to hold the same standards of conduct for both boys and girls.

"You might as well kill a dog as to give him a bad name."

Never forget--what one does and thinks in his youth will be reflected in the face and character of the grownup.

Students' Comedy Of Errors

Here in Bailey High School, it is surprising just how many high school students all unconsciously make errors that prove comical to others.

With a bit of "snooping" here and there, one can hear a few errors similar to the ones listed below:

Ray J. Jordan, discussing moon oddity: "If the wind had been beating you all night, as it had the moon you'd be out of place too. Frank Brown, reading a "correct" sentence of his: "Which flickers when the wind blows, Old Susan places a candle on the window sill."

Patsy Edwards, reading in sociology: "Men that are discovered--I--mean-----

Always having a cheerful word for his many friends, this brown haired, five foot boy very seldom, if ever, loses his temper. He is never too busy to stop and chat with anybody. This alone has made him a student many like.

Last month's character, Principal Weaver, was not identified.

divorced, do not live as long as men who aren't.

Clayton Brock, a senior, when asked to spell Habit, replied: "H-A-B-B-I-T".

Mr. Dunn: "Clara Lou, what is virus?"

Clara Lou: "An infection."

Mr. Dunn: "Well!! Scientists don't even know that."

Rays Of Sunshine

Junior Bass is making a good impression on teachers and high-school students by his willingness to study and his friendly, courteous attitude.

A parent of a student who attends B.H.S. made this remark concerning Clifton McKeel's efficiency as a bus driver, "In all the years my children have been going to school, I've never seen a better bus driver."

Mrs. K. F. Lewis, lunch room supervisor, should be commended on her ability to smile constantly and to call every student by his first name.

Many compliments have been paid Miss Tomlinson's girls' health class for the splendid upkeep of the first-aid room and girls' rest room.
