

FFA's Honor Fathers at Banquet

Each member of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America honored his father at the annual Father-Son Banquet, January 31, at the agriculture building.

Presiding officers were Theron Sanders, president; Eldred Perry, vice-president; Ed Pace, secretary; Franklin Brown, treasurer; Tommy Glover, reporter; and J.H. Wells, advisor.

Honored guests, besides the fathers were F. U. Wolfe and Ernest Winstead, of Middlesex; Mike Griffin, Willis Farmer, J. S. Collie, Leamon Tapp, Burley Dunn, Julian Finch, I. H. House, E. T. Rouse, R. G. L. Edwards, Robert

FFA's Build Varied Items In Shop Class

Required shop work has produced, so far this year, many useful articles for the farm and home.

Several boys are doing outstanding jobs; all are making some worth-while projects:

- Owen Strickland-cedar chest
- C. D. Mullen-sink cabinet
- Mr. Wells-corner cabinet
- Earl Manning-bed table
- George Pittman, Ronald Bissette-sun porch for chicken brooder.

Others are building book-cases and working on the school's bicycle racks.

Griffin, Willard Meacomes, and M. W. Weaver, all of Bailey.

Tommy Glover made a brief speech welcoming the fathers, and Rufus Beard welcomed the guests.

Leamon Tapp, a former agriculture teacher of Bailey, gave the response for the guests.

The meal, consisting of barbecue, brunswick stew, slaw, potatoes, cornbread, and coffee, was served by several of the local Future Homemakers of America. The girls that served were given a box of candy by the chapter.

The local F. F. A chapter received a banner for Field Day at a recent Federation meeting.

This next Federation contest in cattle judging is to be held in April. The place has not been decided.
