

Sports Scope

By Beverly Tapp

Basketball is finished for the year, but sports tread new ground. "Spring is here, the flowers is riz, and baseball and softball is in the air."

Children on the playground in front of the building are observed "choosing sides." At recesses and dinner periods cries like "Let me choose", "Take me", "Oh boy" we're in home first" are heard jubilantly rising from the playground, as boys and girls alike participate in one or the other of America's favorite sports, baseball and softball.

SPIRITED ACTIVITY

This isn't major league, but to the ones who throw themselves into it wholeheartedly it is just as important. It feels good to say, "I hit a homerun", and it helps us to learn better how to cooperate with other people.

In former years the boys have played baseball and the girls have backed them with cheering; this year the girls will be their yelling, but they will also want some support from the boys as Miss Rebecca Tomlinson is going to organize a girls' softball team.

BASLBALL PRACTICE

Burley Dunn has already started practice with his baseball minded boys. Fourth-period study hall and lunch period are being used as practice periods. Special arrangements are made for those who are not free at either of these periods.

Squads Elect All-County Team

An All-Star Nash County basketball team was picked to vie with Franklin County's top teams in two doubleheader matches.

At the Louisburg college gymnasium, March 14, the first game was played. The Nash-All-Star girls were the winners. The second took place in the Red Oak gym, March 16 with the girls again winning.

The proceeds of the Red Oak game went to the Nashville Lions Club to be used in the sight-conservation and blind program.

The Louisburg Lions Club received the door receipts from the game played at Louisburg.

Selection of players was made by vote of players and coaches. Votes cast by coaches counted three times those cast by players. Three teams were selected for both boy's and girls' games.

Five of the Bailey players were selected for this team. They were Lois Medlin, guard, 759 votes; Jane Morgan, forward, 307 votes; Theron Sanders, guard, 347 votes; Charles Williams, forward, 309 votes; and Owen Strickland, guard, 296 votes. Miss Rebecca Tomlison, Hornets' girls' coach, was named all county girls' coach along with Miss Bess Abolila of Benvenue.
