

GENERAL COMMENTS - M. W. Weaver

Weren't you proud of the success of open house at the last P. T. A. meeting! It was too bad that the lights had to act up as they did. When you overload a mule, he balks. The same thing could be said about lights. The fuse carrying the current was too small for the load. It seems that the upstairs and downstairs circuits need to be divided so that a separate fuse will serve each floor. Each room had something really worthwhile I thought. Some fine comments have come our way as a result of the program and we are grateful for them.

YOUR RECORD

One day recently a father expressed his appreciation to me for recommending his daughter to a prospective employer. I told him that it was quite a bit of satisfaction to me to be able to recommend her and all the other students who leave a record here that can be passed on to the people in the business world and to others. You are the one who is making that record.. What are you putting into yours?

STUDENTS DROPPING OUT

Too many of our high-school-age students are giving up and dropping out of school. With no more effort than some were making to do the work, they and the school are as well off with them out as with them in school. Students, you must remember that in the long run a high school education is necessary if you hope to compete on equal terms in the job market of the community. Parents need to encourage their children to do their best in school work. Some sacrifice now may, and very probably will be, needed, but it will pay dividends eventually.

A.C. Representatives Speak to Seniors

To better acquaint the seniors with college life was the purpose of the visit by two representatives from Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, North Carolina.

March 16 the seniors visited this college to get a general idea of the activities and atmosphere of college life.
