

School Displays Exhibits in Nashville

Six teachers of this school sent materials to be exhibited at Nashville, where each school in the county was invited to participate in a county-wide exhibit.

Exhibits were arranged according to grades and subjects.

Mrs. A. H. Farmer exhibited drawings of Silas Marner, a poster of a diagrammed sentence, showing case, parts of speech complements and modifiers, a poster of words often mispronounced, and two copies of the Bugle.

Mrs. L. T. Lassiter's geography class was represented by North Carolina booklets and maps made in commercial geography. Typing II work on display was a cross section of a budget and art typing from typing I were sent.

Miss Edith Farmer exhibited block cutting, geometric designs and solids, figures used for party favors, an algebraic crossword puzzle with 97 words, and some graphs.

From the science department, M. W. Weaver sent drawings of Concave and convex lenses and mirrors.

Mrs. J. P. Underwood sent original drawings of poems studied by the class, Richard Privette's jungle picture, and European maps filled out from memory.

Four biology charts consisting of pictures of flowers, insects, animals, marine creatures, and plants were sent by Burley Dunn.

Mrs. Frances Rouse, representative for Bailey, took these exhibits to Nashville. She also carried a flower garden from Mrs. Florabelle Bynum's class and a doll house from Mrs. Rudolph Glover's class, but was unable to put them on exhibit because the office at Nashville was closed.

Miss Edith Farmer states that the English departments were represented more than any other department in the county.

Yes, Today, Too, People
Love Art and Artists

Form an Art Club

In Your Neighborhood

SEE

BRIDGER PAINT & WALLPAPER CO.

For Helpful Hints And A

Complete Line of ART SUPPLIES

125 S. Tarboro St.

Wilson, N.C.