

Senior Girl "Loves" To Hunt

"Shooting ability and accuracy can be developed only if you like the sport and want to work toward that end", says Mary Ann Miller.

Mary Ann states that once she even used the hole in a spool for a target and shot straight through it. Going hunting is Mary Ann's favorite pastime, and she remarks, "I love it".

BUGLE LOSES STAFF MEMBER

Ten-member staff will be reduced to nine at the beginning of the new year as Julia Hooks, one of the Bugle's business managers, joins the senior class of Charles L. Coon.

Bailey Growing

Bailey is a growing town, getting a new city hall and telephone office. A new general store is being built on the side of Colie's Cafe.

The town has a parking lot and, in the near future, it hopes to have stop lights.

No Turkeys

Since the lunchroom turkeys went to Korea for the soldiers at Thanksgiving, Mrs. Kermit Lewis says the same thing will probably happen at Christmas. That being the case no murmur of complaint is heard from the students.
