

Fashion Trends----- Jackie Vicke

Going to parties this month? Surely you are, for this is the Christmas season and everyone is giving parties. Here are a few of the many types and styles of party dresses that will fit you and your budget, as well as make you the "belle of the ball".

The outstanding material for these dresses is taffeta—mostly white. The necklines are low, the skirts full, swirly, and set off by sashes, bows, ribbons, flowers, and belts of bright red. These additions perfectly blend in with the holiday setting to give the dresses a glowing effect.

Another first-rater and new addition to gala dress materials is brocade. A big favorite is light-blue sprinkled with sparkle-dust. It can also be had in pinks, creams, and greens.

A Snow-White rayon ottoman taffeta dress has a low sweetheart neckline, a full skirt. It is the newest of the taffetas. Over the dress, a Rose-Red jacket of twill-back velveteen with great rhinestone buttons complete the ensemble.

PERFUME FOR GIFTS

Remember last month that a new fad--the collection of different shaped perfume bottles--was mentioned? This month there are three new perfumes and in beautiful shaped crystal bottles. The first is MIDNIGHT by Tussy, ENDEARING by Bourjois--compounded in Paris!--, and LOKI--God of Mischief--. These aren't too expensive, and they're just right for gifts that will truly be appreciated.

Senior Sponsors Drive

A donation drive for the Hopkins family near Samaria in which four children lost their lives was undertaken by C. D. Mullens. C. D. took up collections at school, in the Bailey business district, and in the vicinity of the stricken family.

"I think anyone doing such a worthwhile thing should be commended," stated Mrs. Kermit Lewis.

THANKS

The Hopkins family of Middlesex wish to thank the school for its part in the purse collection presented them.

Of the forty-seven subscriptions of the Bugle mailed each month, thirteen of them go out of state.
