

Representative Visits Mrs. Lewis Louds Student Co-operation Juniors; Seniors

High school juniors and seniors were introduced to the Reverend Oscar Creech, Associate to President, Chowan College, Murfreesboro, North Carolina, earlier this month by the Superintendent of Nash county schools, L. S. Inscoc.

Reverend Creech spoke about the advantages of a college education and encouraged each graduate to attend some college. Special courses offered at Chowan in liberal arts, natural sciences, business, commerce, medical and religious technicians, and hospital librarians were explained to the group.

"My workers have co-operated wonderfully this year", boasts Mrs. Kermit Lewis, lunchroom supervisor. She further informs that there has been perfect harmony between students and regular workers. "Because their teacher comes to lunch with them I believe more little folks come to lunch and eat better and more students from each room eat" says Mrs. Lewis.

"A rich girl is only a poor girl with money."
