

Boiley Enters 'Finer Carolina' Contest ----- LaRue Winstead

Bailey is in the race for $1,000 offered to towns with 1,000 or less population. Carolina Power and Light Company is launching this campaign to build a "Finer Carolina".

The purpose of this campaign, according to the Company, is "to improve the economy of a community and develop community pride".

The general chairman is Mayor John D. Bissette.

Composing the STEERING COMMITTEE is M. W. Weaver, Mrs. John Burgess, Gene Finch, and Clara Lou Stott. Faye Finch, Lucinda Stott, and LaRue Winstead make up the PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

The projects selected were STREETS AND SIDEWALKS, M. H. Griffin, chairman; MUNICIPAL UTILITIES, E. A. Howton, chairman; PUBLIC BUILDINGS, Leamon Tapp, chairman; EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS, M. W. Weaver, chairman; RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS, W. R. Parson, chairman; STORES AND SHOPS, Mrs. J.M. Burgess, chairman.

Assisting each chairman are, for the Streets, A.B. Farmer, Clara Lou Stott, and J. W. Christian; for the Municipal Utilities, Tony Stott, Gene Finch, and Mrs. Robert Meacomes; for the Public Building, J. M. Burgess, Carl Walker, and Mrs. C. D. Phillips.

For the Educational Institutions, Harold Finch, J. H. Wells, and Mrs. T. C. May; for the Religious Institutions, the Reverend G. L. Edwards, Mrs. H. F. Bowen, and Mrs. G. J. May; for Stores and Shops, Lewis Watson, Mrs. Herman

Whitley, and Ed Cozart.

The chairman of each committee is asked to keep a record of everything the committee does.

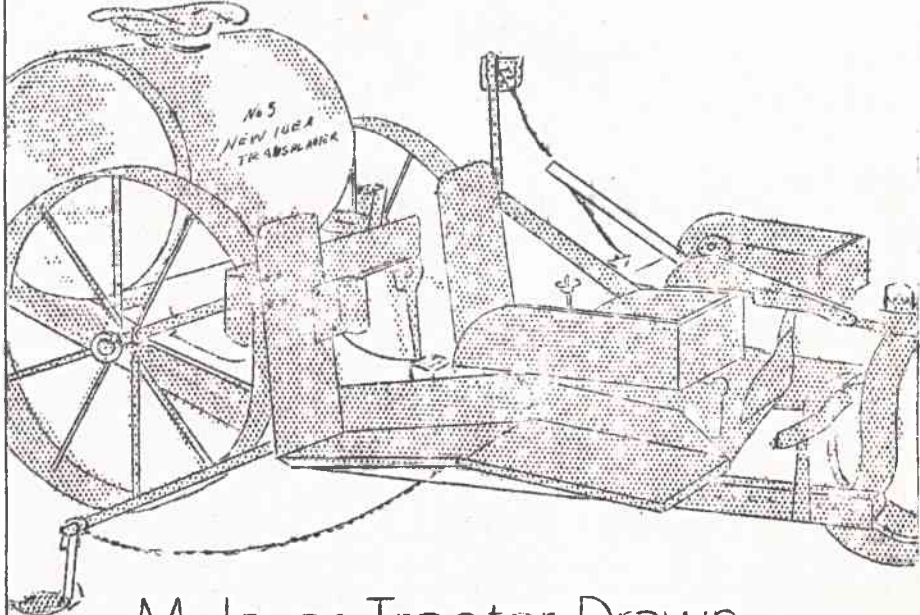

"Fortunately, this is one activity in which no participants can lose. All towns can't win cash awards, but every town which enters the competition and keeps plugging toward its goals will be a finer town when this campaign comes to an end on October 31, 1952," is the belief of the sponsoring company.
