

Mother Goose Rhymes Set Stage For Banquet

Seniors were carried back by the juniors to their childhood days and Mother Goose Rhymes at the Junior-Senior Banquet, April 18.

Mother Goose scenes, dramatizations, and rhymed take-offs gave the note for the decorations and program.

Hand painted invitations, ten-page-hand-tinted programs, and mural designs depicting Mother Goose Rhymes carried out the theme.

As a special honor to the seniors, a hand made huge satin banner in Senior Class Colors hung from the ceiling with SENIORS, '52,

Mary Ann Pace Crowned Miss Popularity Of '49

"I was surprised, honored, and just a little afraid," states Mary Ann Miller, "as the announcement was made near the close of the Halloween Carnival on October 28, 1949, that I was Miss Popularity of the year".

"This honor was made possible only because of the grand support of my classmates," Mary Ann declares.

Mary Ann was crowned as a result of winning the popularity contest sponsored by the P.T.A. to raise money for the school fund. The contest lasted one week. Votes were a penny each.

Mrs. Brooks Privette, president of the P.T.A. at that time, crowned the queen and presented to her a pen from Fox's in Rocky Mount.

A special feature of the program was the dramatization of nursery rhymes. As several junior girls chanted the rhymes, other class members acted the parts.

Declared by all present to be the "cleverest" stunt on the program was the dramatization of the song "Paper Doll" by Jan Perry, Jackie Bragg, and Jean Barnes singing. "Feet" for the dolls were manipulated by three other girls, who kept time to the music with their "feet" (hands).

Souvenirs to take home were plentiful. Each person had a balloon and nut cup representing a nursery rhyme character.

Lamar Finch was toastmaster and Lois Thigpen, Mother Goose.
