

Teachers, Students Reveal Summer Plans Test To Act As Guide In Senior Employment

Summer schools, trips, and entering service are a few of the plans scheduled by the teachers and students this summer.

Mrs. Rudolph Glover will spend most of the summer in her cottage at Pamlico Beach, North Carolina.

Coach L. E. Pittman will be in Greenville working on his M. A. Miss Frances Owens hopes to attend East Carolina College also.

Mrs. M. W. Weaver and Mrs. L. T. Lassiter will also be going to summer school.

Mrs. Howard Farmer plans to attend the English Institute at Duke and Carolina.

Jackie Lamm looks forward to a ten-day trip to Florida, while C. D. Mullen enters the Merchant Marines early in June. Jackie Vicke and Jean Wells will take a trip to Wilmington.

To test their readiness in learning, fitness or suitability for a job, and their natural disposition was the purpose of the aptitude test given to the seniors April 9.

The test began at approximately nine o'clock and lasted into the afternoon hours.

Each senior's test paper is to be graded and his score placed in the employment office to aid this office when an applicant applies for a job.

Tenth English Portrays Poems To Class

As a resume of the unit of poetry studied in the tenth grade, each student was asked to portray his favorite poem studied.

Poems were illustrated in such a way that the class could see, hear, and remember them.

Drawings, making posters, and showing pictures were some of the ways that the students chose to illustrate their poems.

Among the best presented were those by Vivian Glover, Jimmy Harris, Rayford Perry, Betty Lou Glover, and Tanya Glover.
