F. H. A. Girls Plan Year's Work

Class Studies Architecture

Naming of officers, chapter mothers, fair committee chairmen was business discussed by the F. H. A. girls at their first meeting of the year in the home economics room.

Incoming officers are: Frances Carroll, president; Amy Lou Horton, vice-president; Tanya Glover, secretary; Billie Faye Perry, treasurer; Mary Ann Edwards, reporter; Wanda High, parliamentarian; Jane Burgess and Shirley Creech, song leaders; Elsie Ray Eatmon, historian.

Plans made for the year were to sell Christmas cards, attend the State fair and various rallies, and sponsor a booth at the Nash County fair in Spring Hope.

FAIR BOOTH COMMITTEE

Heading the committee for the fair booth is Lois Thigpen, with six helpers: Betty Lou Brown, Amy Lou Horton, Elsie Ray Eatmon, Wanda High, Ann Johnson, and Patricia Dew.

Assistant leaders and helpers for the F. H. A. girls this year are the chapter mothers-----Mrs. George Thigpen, Mrs. G. W. Lamm, Mrs. Paul Horner, and Mrs. Eugene Finch.

Heading the different committees are Amy Lou

Horton, program; Carolyn Finch, social; Shirley Webb, initiation; Jan Perry, degrees; Billie Faye Perry, finance; Elsie Ray Eatmon and Shirley Williams, scrapbook.

Delegates To Attend F. H. A. Rally

Members from the Bailey Future Homemakers of America chapter are planning to attend the District IV rally, October 4, that will be in Henderson.

FRANCES WILSON, F. H. A. sponsor, says, "We may take those wishing to go."

Supplementing their study of architecture, the third year home economics class visited furniture stores in Bailey and Wilson last week.

As guests of the Bailey Furniture Co. and Heilig-Myers, the girls learned more about modern furnishings for the home.

FRANCES WILSON, advisor, took the group through the modern home of a friend on Cavalier Terrace in Wilson.

"This home was modern in every way. A stone seat, built near the fireplace in the den, was a new idea for television," reports RENA FISSETTE, one of the students visiting the home.
