A LAUGH.....

While studying force in physics, IR. WEAVER told his class that the larger the object the greater the force. After the lunch bell rang, RAEFORD PERRY remarked, "My force must have been too great for MRS. LASTER, because we just had a collision in the hall."

Schedule Changes; Freshmen Take Algebra

Unlike the past schedule of freshmen, thirty-three are taking algebra I without the general math course usually required in the freshman year of high school as a base for algebra sometime during the following high school years.

Nine of the thirty-three students hail from Mount Pleasant, while the other twenty-four are Bailey's. "So far," says Miss Edith

Farmer, algebra teacher, "the majority of the students are doing as well as if they had had math."

Grey And Creech Lend Board For Exhibit

Grey and Creech, Inc., of Raleigh assisted the journalism class in displaying their newspaper exhibit at the Nash County Fair this week by lending a bulletin board and some of the needed materials.

The journalism class purchases from this company supplies for publishing the Bugle.
