

The Successful Farmer of Tomorrow Is The Future Farmer of Today

Ag Classes Busy In Many Fields

Mass production of grading sticks has consumed the time of the shop periods of some of the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade boys for the first school month.

Crafts finished thus far are: Two new book racks by BRUCE PERRY, a wall rack by RONALD BISSETTE, and a sink cabinet by JUNIOR DEWEENT is in progress.

FIRST AT FAIR

Walking off with first prize at the county fair, the Bailey chapter netted $40 as a result of its educational exhibit.

According to instructor Wells the praise goes to the Junior and Senior classes who made the exhibit possible.

EDUCATION THROUGH FILMS

For educational purposes the agriculture boys have been shown for the past three weeks on class films in the safety driving field.

The movies dealt principally with highway safety and courtesy.

"I hope that some of that information will rub off on most of the boys", states "BOSS".

For a helping hand and a friend go see "Boss" Wells.

Chapter In The Running

PLANTERS NATIONAL BANK of Rocky Mount sponsored a parliamentary procedure contest October 20 at Middlesex in which the Bailey chapter participated.

Representatives entering in the contest from Bailey were Rufus Beard, Junior Bass, Mack Lamm, Willly Bunn, and Harvey Dent.

Bailey's range was within the top four, but Nashville came out first.

This contest was closed by a supper in the high school lunchroom served by Parkers.

FFA's Have Full Day At Fair

October 17 found the agriculture boys at the state fair taking in fun and exhibits.

The Bailey chapter chartered a bus to furnish transportation and returned home at 6:00 P. M. that day.

In the fun fest LAMAR FINCH and BILLY GLOVER captured many Panda bears.

DEPT. GETS NEW STOVE

"The old catches up with the new" as the coal-type heater in the agriculture building has just been replaced by a modern oil burner.
