1693 Absences In Second Month

Heard-----

Nine high school students made honor roll.

Mr. Inscoe (our county superintendent) is engaged to the county Home Demonstration agent.

Noticed-----

Joyce Williams and Jean Boykin wearing their socks turned all the way up (almost to their knee) these cold days?

Nancy Medlin's beautiful new, fall skirts and sweaters.

Betty Lou Glover lets professionals do her serenading to James Paul? (Remember the Marimba Quarett.)

154 of the 191 eligible high school students registered for the "Mock Election" of November four.

How much the "paper stick" in the library helps preserve the paper. (Thanks, Miss Oglesby.)

Seen-----

Those red dungarees that Fuzzy Morgan, Barbara Boykin, and Carolyn Howell wear.

How much cleaner the rest rooms are. (Thank Mrs. Edwards and her eighth graders.)

How nice and attractive Jackie Bragg and Ann Medlin look in black.

Absences totaling 1693 were reported for the second month as it came to a close Tuesday. The report further revealed that only three grades in the entire school had less than 100 absences.

"Work, pink eye, and an attitude of don't care" states Principal M. W. Weaver, were the main causes leading to these absences.

The elementary grades accounted for 1304; the high school for 389.

RECORDS MADE

Three grades were responsible for over 200 absences each; six grades had over 100 apiece.

This record, if continued, as the principal has reiterated a number of times this fall, will keep the school from gaining an additional teacher in the elementary and in the high school next year.

Principal Weaver urges parents to keep their children in school as much as possible.
