

Odds & Ends:

D. Joyner

How many of you have heard Bruce Perry repeating a letter he composed of song titles? I have, and it's really cute!

"Now, we aren't drawing names this Christmas!" is the phrase most heard around school this month. In fact no grade or class in school is drawing names this year.

WELCOME HOME

JUDY LAMM, tenth grader, has rejoined the Bailey classes. Here's hoping she'll soon be able to re-join the basketball team also. By the way, the tenth grade has lost two girls this month--FRANCIS JACKSON and ARBADELLA DAVIS.

Now wonder why RENA BISSETTE gets mad at basketball games? Could it be because of getting accidentally hit on the head by the ball or for other undescrivable reasons.

We had 17 days of school in November and 15 days in December.

Well, well, well---school doesn't end until May 25! At least that's what Mr. Weaver told me. Why--because of having to delay starting school last September.

SENIOR PLAY

Wonder when the seniors will present their play? By the way HARVEY DENTON and BERTHA DASS have declared that they do not want to be in it! Wonder why?

Everyone was glad when JACKIE BRAGG (Mrs. Willie Ray Bunn) decided to continue her schooling after her marriage November 26. Good luck, girl!

Teachers Supervise Activity Period

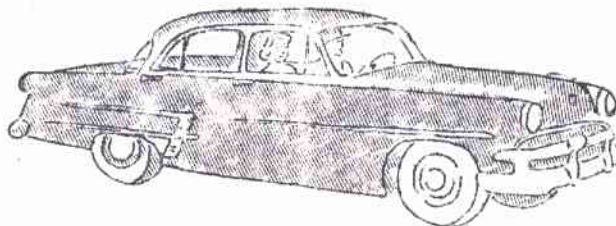

Following the advice of the State Board of physical education, grades one through eight conduct their physical educational period each day under the teachers' supervision.

Grades four through eight demonstrate these supervised physical activities at half times during each home basketball game.

What the public is seeing the students perform at these games is the result of one half hour's physical instruction every day:
