

Fashions and Fads..... V. Glover

Special Design

Hi, Guys and Gals!

Christmas has brought with it several exciting things other than Santa Claus. I am referring to holiday fashions and gift shopping.

GIFTS FOR GIRL FRIENDS

If you girls are "beating your head against a brick wall" trying to decide what to give that best girl friend, I have a few hints to pass along to you.

Boys that are in the know don't give their girl friends gifts of too personal a nature. You can fill this vacancy by giving your friends lingerie, scuffs, accessories, or a blouse.

A more expensive and elaborate gift that would please her is a Cashmere sweater studded with rhinestones and pearls.

Other fine gifts are costume jewelry, neckerchiefs, or a Teddy bear to pamper or put on her bed to dress up her bedroom.

HAIR CARE

If your once charming hair style is beginning to look messy, discard those ugly hair pins and rubber bands. Replace them with pony tailers, barrettes, clasps, and more charming ornaments.

PARTY TIME

When shopping for party "duds," ask to see separates in velveteen, metallic print, acetate, and jersey.

Start planning now to look your prettiest at those long awaited Christmas parties.

Merry Christmas and remember, "Christmas time is style time."

Journalists Honored At Christmas Party

Members of the journalism staff were entertained at a Christmas party Wednesday night given to them by Mrs. A. A. Stith.

Coco-colas, mints, and cake were served and games were played.

The students presented Mrs. Stith with a gift in appreciation for the party.

To add money to their treasury, the journalism class charged everyone attending the party a nickle for every foot high, a penny for each inch over.

Live Physics

Application of principles learned in physics were demonstrated in every day life to the class when they toured the boiler room, new building, and agriculture building earlier this month.

The Christmas scene in the study hall was designed by Miss Oglesby.
