

Everyone (including the coach) was doubtful of last Friday night's game with Middlesex, but both teams played to a glorious victory. Coach Ben Wethington commented, "Best game we've played yet." We agree.

Several changes have been made in the gym this month. New towel racks, clothes bins, lockers, and a utility cabinet have been installed in the boys' dressing rooms thanks to "Boss" Wells and his shop crew. All were made from plywood at cost of materials only.

Coach Wethington and the ball players have given all facings a coat of white paint. The cement floors have been painted white also.

A LOOK AT THE PAST

Let's run through the games played during the month of January to date:

On January 2 Bailey went to Benvenue to come home with one win, one loss; Boys' score-41-53 in Benvenue's favor. Our girls scored a 57-48 win. Billie Perry was at her best again as she out-scored another of our stars, FANNIE LOU MANNING. BILLIE racked up 28 points to her name in that game alone. FANNIE LOU scored 16. CARROLL JONES was also at his best that night with 19 points to his name.

January 6 saw Bailey playing a non-conference game with Wakelon. The final score — boys 61-37 in Bailey's favor; girls played to a 48 to 54 defeat.

On January 9 it was off to battle another rival-- Red Oak. Bailey girls lost only by a hair-44-45 in Red Oak's favor. Our boys lost 50-66.

It looked as if Bailey was still in hot water as they came home on January 13 from Coopers. Both teams were down. Girls' score was 57-58 with Coopers leading. Boys' score was 39-52 with (See SPORTS MIRROR pg. 15)

Her Identity Known

The Green Hornet Becomes Known

THE GREEN HORNET, a mascot for the cheerleaders and ball team, is KAY STRICKLAND, a representative from the first grade.

The idea of having a Green Hornet was suggested by MISS IDALIA OGLESBY. She designed and made the hornet's costume, representing a real hornet. There are wings, a cap, shorts, and a shirt, all made of green cotton material. Cotton stockings are dyed green.

KAY symbolizes BAILEY'S team called the GREEN HORNETS at all home games.

She sometimes helps the cheerleaders.
