

Fashions And Fads..... V. Glover

Hi, READERS!

Let's begin this month discussing boys' new fads.

Long watch chains are being worn by nearly all the fashion-wise boys around dear ole' BAILEY HIGH. Several noted for their "cow-chains" are NEWTON GLOVER, WAYNE FINCH and JAMES PAUL STOTT.

The turtle-neck sweaters, which were popular several years ago, are springing into style again. BRUCE FINCH's blue one is very becoming. Girls, like boys, are also wearing them.

GIRLS' DEPT.

Blouses are on the O.K. list all year through. The material varies with the season. Crepe, cotton, taffeta (for evening wear), and silk are the preferred materials for now and early spring.

Several characteristics of blouses which have been designed recently are the scoop, round, and cowl yokes. The mandarin collar (illustrated above) is a popular blouse pattern; besides, it gives character to pajamas, robes, dresses, jackets, and suits. DORIS JOHNSON is famous for her pretty blouses.

ACCESSORIES

Accessories are the "making" or the "breaking" of an outfit. They can either add spice and charm or destroy the whole appearance. One outstanding accessory for late winter are delicate little bags in velveteen, kid, plastic, suede, and faille.

NEW COLORS

Special colors have been derived from basic colors to match and bring out the color of the hair. Burnt almond is produced for red heads (That's your cue, SHIRLEY), raspberry for brunettes, and blueberry for dark blondes.

THE CUMMERBUND

Along with the wide belts, there has appeared the cummerbund. It is a sensational fashion idea; I am surprised that there are no students wearing them. MISS OGLESBY is the only person in school who wears one. Hers looks very nice.

FAMOUS FADS

ANN MEDLIN'S sheer nylon blouses. The freshmen
