

Big Results Desired? Use Foresight

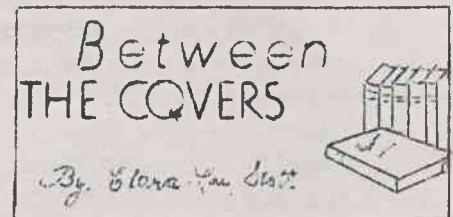

Students, have you planned your future work? Decided upon the subjects that will be most beneficial to you?

Soon we'll be asked to plan our schedule for another year. If we are a student interested in learning, we will not select the easy subjects, nor take "just enough to get by with". What we have the faintest idea of doing after graduation should be the main factor determining the choice.

We need to wake up to the fact that we are almost on our own, to start to think about our future.

Ask most graduates who followed the easy course what they would advise. Many will strongly urge that one take all the subjects he can, the harder ones in particular. They will admit that taking "just enough to get by with" has kept them from going to college or from getting a particular job very much wanted because they failed to take a certain course(s) in high school.

They have found the "easy way" to be the hard way.

Notes From Paper Pals-----B. Finch

$100 was donated by an audience at Spring Hope after hearing a concert by the high school band.

HOPE 'N PRINT
Spring Hope, N. C.

Student council members are on duty in the halls of I. C. high school to tag offenders who don't abide by the rules and regulations. The student judges hold regular court sessions twice a month.

EYE SEE
Elmhurst, Ill.

A school seal for Laconia High will be selected from a group of entries donated by the students. A $50 savings bond is the prize for the student entering the adopted official seal.

THE LOKANIAN
Laconia, New Hamp.

A SCHOOL PAPER

A school paper is a grand invention,

For the school gets all the fame;

The printer gets all the money,

And the staff gets all the blame.

RADIOGRAM
Wilson, N. C.

PATRIOTIC IDEAS

Enjoyed by everyone-The Chapel Program given by the seniors.

BAILEY BUGLE
Published monthly
10¢ per copy
EDITOR: Mary Ann Edwards
ASST. EDITORS: Wayne Lamm
Lois Thigpen
BUSINESS MGR. Jerry Perry
STAFF: Ann Earp-Bruce Finch
Peggy Liles--Shirley Webb
Vivian Glover-Tanya Glover
Jimmy Harris--Bertha Bass
Rena Bissette----Christine Fowler
TYPISTS: Joyce Williams
Carolyn Howell----Frances Carroll-Barbara Nell Lamm
ADVISERS: Mrs. Howard Farmer
Mrs. Laurine T. Lassiter.

Lorna Doone, Tale of Two Cities, Little Minister, and Vanity Fair begin a list of great English novels that have lived through the centuries.

These books, assigned to the senior class, were reported on in panel discussions. With a chairman for each book, the groups would discuss the author, the characters, and the plot of the story.

After discussing a book, the panel gave the class a chance to ask any questions that might have come to mind.

Certainly, this way of telling book reports helped by getting me acquainted with some great English authors and their novels. These books, to me, were the present.

Maybe in a year or more you will be the seniors of Bailey High School and will be required to read these books. I want to encourage you in this reading, for these novels are not dull but full of life and human nature.