

Shop

Projects

F.F.A.

Activites

Chpt. To Enter Contest

Watson Seed Farm, near Rocky Mount, will be the scene of the Federation Crop Contest on December 10, discloses Boss Wells.

Sophomore, junior, and senior FFA members will be studying for this contest.

"A team of three with an alternate will be chosen to represent the Bailey Chapter," adds Boss.

SHAVINGS

Mrs. J. W. Christian gave a piano to the Clubhouse and the 10th grade boys are refinishing it in the shop.

A slide film projector and a new electric power sander have been purchased for shop use.

Cedar chests and other shop projects are near completion.

Simple electrical repairs, use of hand tools, and landscaping are among the topics the third year girls have been studying in agriculture.

Billy Glover has a particular fondness for cookies.

Adviser Invites Young Farmers To Meet

All young farmers are invited to attend the farmers meetings each Monday night from 7 to 9 o'clock in the agriculture building, says adviser Wells.

Discussions about farming and the use of the shop will be taken up at these meetings.

"So far about 25 members have come out," reports Wells.

All interested farmers who "classify themselves as Young farmers" are invited to attend these weekly meetings," Boss further emphasized.

Wells Host To Workers

On November 16, the Nash-Edgecombe teachers met with John Wells for the monthly group Federation meeting. Wells was in charge of the program.

Plant beds and soil fumigation was the topic of discussion at the meeting.

A representative of a chemical company who distributes these chemicals took part in the discussion.

This Young Fellow Is Growing And So Is

Our Long List Of

BUILDING

MATERIALS

J. W.

STONE LUMBER CO.

