Bailey merchants are contributing money toward new basketball suits for the girls.

As the Green Hornets proceed onto the basketball court to begin a game, that familiar bark of a great sports fan is again heard this year throughout the gym.

A quick glance toward the drink stand, on the top row of seats, will tell one where the bark came from, because sitting there, looking as pleasant as ever, is jolly Melvin Horner, better known to his fans and friends as "Baby Doll."

The name "Baby Doll" was given to Mr. Horner because of his smiling, round, jolly, doll-like face.

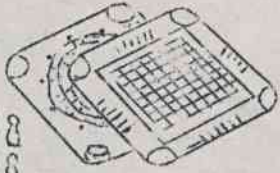

This special seat has been marked off for Baby Doll, since he is a regular game attendant.

During a game, this familiar hullo acts as a stimulant to the team, particularly so when the score is low. It's an indication that at least one fan is giving his loyal support to help the team pull through.

Boys Top Girls

In the three practice games to date, with Black Creek and Saratoga, the boys have won out each time, while the girls have one win.
