

Fans, Merchants Donate Funds For New Suits

BROOKS PRIVETTE, local merchant and basketball fan, was instrumental in making it possible for the girls' team to get new suits.

At his proposal a number of merchants and fans gave a donation toward the purchase of these suits. Privette contributed the first donation.

A committee of five players, voted on by the team members, selected the twelve new suits. In appearance these suits vary little from the ones new being worn.

A list of all who donated money for the suits is given below:

- W. B. PRIVETTE
- A. B. and WILLIS FARMER
- WILLIS FINCH
- BAILEY FEED MILL
- A. B. CORBETT
- PAUL HORNER
- RUPERT PERRY
- BAILEY FURNITURE CO.
- ROBERT MEACOMES
- BEDFORD EATMON

themselves.

I hope you don't think I have been preaching to you this month because I haven't meant to.

Teams Split Record

County standing for the Bailey Green Hornets to date is rifty-fifty.

The boys have started out with no losses while the girls have no wins.

So far Bailey's rivals have been Middlesex and Nashville.

Cheerleaders Replaced

After electing cheerleaders for this year, Tanya Glover and Louise Howell dropped out. Taking their place is Betty Lou Stallings and Patty Sue Thompson, who had the next highest votes.

All girls on the ball squad this year should really be thankful to those making the three new rules in basketball. These rules are really an advantage for the teams.

The first rule states that five personal fouls are allotted to each player. Dealing with a jump ball, the other two rules state that the jump must be made either at the center or foul line and the clock stops during the jump.

No changes have been made in the boys' rules this year.

Referees secured for this year's games come from Wake Forest College.

REMINDERS

Another thing that comes to my attention this month is the racket heard at ball games when the opposing team makes a foul. Mr. Weaver has mentioned this to us before, so let's show him and the teachers how lady-and-gentleman like we can be at ball games by refraining from booing, whistling, and yelling unnecessarily.

I don't believe Mr. Weaver or Mr. Westall has made this request, but we should all know it by now: keep the floor clear of paper, popcorn, and water, so as not to cause the players to fall and hurt
