

Daily Fortitude More Profitable

Today, January 22, can each student truthfully say that he is keeping his New Year's resolutions? If not, the dawn of each day offers an opportunity to live up to a resolution for that day. If tackled in that spirit daily, the student can master any desire. Similarly, such a policy builds character daily.

Stronger character traits are definitely one of the school's major needs. Make each day count toward a strong disciplined life.

It doesn't take stone walls or an iron cage to imprison one's mind or soul.

The upstairs hall holds up approximately 11,000 pounds of student weight each school day.
