

Srs. Name Superlatives

Seniors have endeavored to elect as their superlatives those students who could meet the requirements of the honor designated, say the members of the class.

Those attaining these honors are--

MR. and MRS. BAILEY HIGH

Cornelius Boykin

Vivian Glover

MOST DEPENDABLE

Jerry Perry

Christine Fowler

MOST ATHLETIC

James Paul Stott

Stella Jones

WITTIEST

Bruce Finch

Ann Earp

NEATEST

Dwight Glover

Awnaleen Medlin

MOST VERSATILE

Bruce Finch

Madeline Perry

BEST-ALL-ROUND

Danny Glover

Feggy Jean Earp

CUTEST

Jerry High

Ann Earp

BEST PERSONALITY

Cornelius Boykin

Patricia Dew

MOST STUDIOUS

Christine Fowler

Rayford Perry

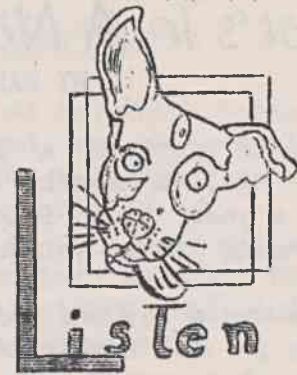

Those students receiving honors were elected from three students nominated by the class for each honor. All the students voted by secret ballot for the boy and girl thought most deserving of the particular honor. Only one tie resulted from this vote.

Test Results To Aid Future Education

To help teachers better determine the educational needs of the ninth grade boys and girls, in the academic and non-academic areas, C. H. Fries, assistant county superintendent, gave to this group an aptitude test the last of January.

This test, American Council On Education Psychological Examination, was not given to see how much each student knew but to determine his educational needs, says Fries. Only a few questions on the test were supposed to be answered by a ninth grade student, he added.

In the future the test will be used for individual guidance of each student, clarifies Fries.
