

Fashions And Fads.....By Vivian Glover

With Easter nearing much chatter concerning Easter outfits can be heard in the halls of 'ole Bailey High.

Usually, we start our wardrobe with a basic garment, either dress or suit, showing styling and cut. The dominant colors will be beige, white, navy, and pink with rosy red. Also, I have an idea that red will be quite popular with the girls in school. Choosing fabrics is very important in selecting an ensemble. Faille, textured materials, and orlon have risen in popularity.

Dresses will not be neglected. Worn with a toppey, they are one of the most important assets to a girl's wardrobe. Silk printed dresses will be seen in all their colors.

ACCESSORIES

Accessories, too, are an outstanding part of any outfit. Besides adding beauty and charm, they give color and reveal the wearer's taste.

For school and date wear, separates and dresses are feminine and are most attractive. Fabrics-cotton, linen, and broadcloth, in prints, stripes, and solids-will make one look as "cool as a cucumber."

STUDENTS

Several students are always noted for their outstanding appearances: Louise Davis for her becoming colors; Christine Fowler, cute separates; Miss Wilson, good taste in choosing style. Three boys-Dwight Glover, Bruce Finch, and Douglas Brown-are renowned for their neatness in dress, their bright shirts, and their "classy" silhouettes.
