

Spring Not Affecting Elementary Grades

Evidently the elementary grades have been inoculated against apathy, or spring fever, so prevalent at this season of the year, for more projects seem to be under way this month than any month before.

Desire for travel and adventure come true through reading for MISS CLEE EATMON'S class. Their reading book, IF I WERE GOING, gives them an opportunity to visit a new country each day. Besides their reading MISS EATMON'S third graders are still continuing the tree project they began in the fall. Other studies are centered mostly around multiplication tables, dictation, and spelling bees, which they have once a week.

MRS. R. G. L. EDWARDS' eighth graders are making wooden plaques of animals, birds, flowers, and geometric designs this month.

Besides their regular studies MRS. HARVEY EVANS' seventh graders are making PILGRIM and PURITAN cut-outs. The eighth graders are reading poems and illustrating them.

MRS. RACHEL PASCHALL'S fourth graders have been visiting FRANCE in their geography. To help in the study, they have learned French phrases and songs. They are also studying the teeth and making booklets.

The story book characters of THE FRIENDLY VILLAGE will become a reality with MRS. RUDOLPH GLOVER'S second graders when they make paper dolls to represent them. Later, their plans are to make a freize of the great plains of Texas, which one of the characters visited.

MRS. FLRABELLE BYNUM'S first graders are learning songs and poems and reading stories about birds this month.

MRS. JIM UNDERWOOD'S sixth graders have become regular globe trotters. In their reading they have visited AFRICA, SWITZERLAND, CHINA, JAPAN, and KOREA. Several students have painted and labeled maps of these places. The sixth graders' regular art theme has been the daffodil, one of the first flowers of spring. They have drawn pictures of the flower and learned songs and poems that concern it. In their CITIZENSHIP CLUB four girls have written original plays. These were Linda Stallings, Connie Lamm, Peggy Eatmon, and Janet Weaver. Janet's, as the teacher expressed it, was really "tops".

Jrs. Name Mascots

Mascots for the junior class for the '54 and '55 school years were recently selected by secret balloting during home room.

SUSAN BRANTLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brantley, and JAMES BROWN, JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, were the two contestants receiving the highest vote of all the proposed candidates.

By Carolyn Finch

The persons that do not push or break in line while going to lunch.

The girls' basketball team.

All students that received singular honors during the visit of the President of Turkey and his officials.

All students that were so co-operative in helping clean the buildings and grounds for the President's visit.

Vivian Glover for her work on the Mt. Pleasant program books.

Billy Glover for his original consolation note in the form of a poem:

A friendly note to keep in touch,
From one who cares so very much,
And hopes it won't be long 'til you,
Are feeling just as good as new.

And wishing and wishing that starting today,
You'll get better and better 'til you're okay.

The boys' basketball team.

The students that stay quiet while changing classes.

The 4th and 5th grades for being present every day this past month.

Honor roll students.
