

Scouts Reorganize; Troop Largest Ever

Junior Manning, with the assistance of Wayne Lamm, has reorganized Bailey Scouts into one of the largest groups in years, says James Paul Stott, Star Scout.

Around 30 members have reported so far, many of whom were previous members. They are hoping to increase that number "tremendously" says Lamm. They already have three patrols.

UNIFORMS

New uniforms have been purchased from the funds raised at a barbecue dinner last month.

Meetings are held regularly each Thursday Night in the Boy Scout building.

As Star Scout, James Paul has the highest rating of any of the boys. Charles Rhodes and Richard Privette are working for 2nd. Class; all the other boys are just starting their tender-foot.

School Adds Book From Rental Fee Surplus

Savings accruing to Bailey School from the book rental fee have made it possible for the school to purchase supplementary books for all departments in high school.

Many of these books will become permanent library books; others will be reported on the book reports.

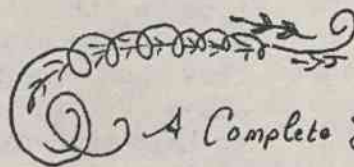

The English department asked for several classics that have been simplified for easy reading. This, the teachers believe, will encourage those students to read who have trouble with their reading.
