

Bugle Scores High; Criticism Guides Staff

This paper scored 10 points more at Columbia this spring than it did last year, as the CSPA scorebook revealed this month when it arrived, reporting a 960 point score out of a possible 1,000 points.

Below is a summary of the scoring:

	Maximum Score	Paper's Score
CONTENT	300	279
WRITING)	400	389
EDITING)
MAKE-UP	200	197
GEN. CONSID)	100	95
ERATIONS )
Possible	1000	960

Under the section labeled "Comments and Constructive Criticisms", the Bugle received both favorable and unfavorable remarks.

Adverse criticism given pointed out--

Headlines--"Fair"

Copyreading and Editing--
"A few slips but on the whole good."

General Appearance--"The trick of double spacing to fill out a story is not a substitute for good editing."

Typing and Duplicating--
"A few slips here."

Among the favorable comments were--

Editorial Matter--- "Much better here---professional in spots."

Make-Up--"Excellent."

General Appearance-----
"Pages neat and attractive."

Content--"Excellent coverage of extra curricular

Sr. Girls Seeking Work After Graduation

Three senior girls have applied for secretarial work in Raleigh, according to Mrs. Laurine T. Lassiter, commercial teacher.

Amy Lou Horton applied at First Citizens Bank and Wachovia; Patricia Dew, at Wachovia and Carolina Power and Light Company; and Betty Lou Glover, at Wachovia. All the girls brought home application blanks to be filled out later from the Revenue Department and the state offices in the Mansion Park Building.

At Wachovia the head of activities; good coverage of curricular activities."

News Stories--"They are well written. There is variety in leads and there is an attempt to make stories interesting."

the personnel department gave the girls an aptitude test, which contained some of all types of arithmetic, synonym matching, spelling of proper names, filing, typing speed, and shorthand speed.

Mrs. Lassiter reports receiving a letter from Miss Blackwell, the personnel assistant of Wachovia, a couple of days after the girls had filed applications, asking for recommendation. In this letter Miss Blackwell expressed a desire to interview any other girls interested in working at Wachovia that Mrs. Lassiter could recommend.

Following the usual rotation plan of replacing typewriters, four new Royal machines have been rotated.

Chevrolets Are Sold

All Over The U.S.

But See Your Dealer

Soon, For Yours

Former Motor Company

Congratulations, Seniors

BAILEY
NORTH CAROLINA