

Staff Busy Earning Money For New York Trip

"Where there's a will, there's a way" is being demonstrated by the journalism students in their efforts to make expense money for the New York trip. They declare they are money conscious all the time.

FUNDS

Although the staff shares in any BUGLE fund remaining after all expenses for the publication of the paper are met, they realize that any member attending the Press Convention has to meet the additional cost from his own pocket.

It is this realization that has prompted the members "to accept any work offered" or to devise ways of earning money.

These students may differ in some of the things they do in order to secure extra funds, but all agree they are pennypinching and saving.

JOB

One student saved the money she made while picking cotton. Now she helps anyone needing tasks done around the home.

Working at the Bailey Cafe and having a "profitable" Christmas card business on the side are the tasks of one student, while another is making a cedar chest to sell.

Saving money from her job in the supply room adds to the extra finances of one staff member.

Cutting down on refreshments, along with other small luxuries, is being done by many of them.

Working a spotlight at the Ice Capades and working at the theater is another means of acquiring the needed cash.

Upon a reporter's approaching one student to find out her means of securing money for her trip to New York, she paused and said demuringly, "Being sweet to Daddy, but please don't print my name; he may not think I'm that way sometimes."

Amounts that have been saved range from two dollars to twenty-three dollars.

B.H.S. Loses 2 Students

As a result of the recent change of Methodist pastors, Bailey High School loses two of its students.

Freshman Miriam House and her sophomore brother, Tommy, have moved to Kirtrell, where they will be in school.

The loss of these two students will decrease the high school enrollment, since the new pastors have no children of school age.

GRADEMOTHERS

GRADE 2 and 3 .

Mrs. Lewis Glover
Mrs. Rubin Ferrell
Mrs. Robert Beard
Mrs. John W. Tuck, Jr.

GRADE 2

Mrs. T. C. May
Mrs. John D. Haskins
Mrs. Willis Finch
Mrs. John Wells
Mesdames L. Batts, R. Finch

Do Your CHRISTMAS
Shopping Early

Go to toyland at

Ed's 5c-$5.
Store

Bailey,

N. C.

When buying your clothes you are intelligent
Why not be when having them

Laundered And Dry Cleaned?

See
Jimmy Dempsey Inc.

Phone Wilson 70161 or Bailey 2166

