

Fads In Fashions --- LANE FARMER

Fashions may come and fashions may go, but what of it! If one goes to the extreme in getting the most fashionable clothes of the day, she will have to buy an almost complete new wardrobe each year. WHY? Because women's clothes, unlike men's, don't stay in style too long at any one time.

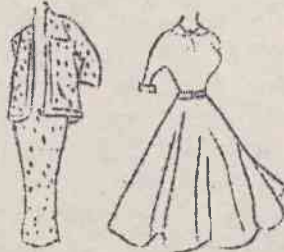

Instead of looking for clothes that are the most fashionable, look for those that will be more becoming to you in style and in color. Many times we see some outfit that we associate with a certain person. This is because clothes, too, have a personality. The same is true of colors.

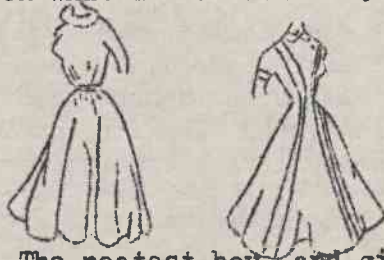

The clothes you select and the colors you wear should reflect you.

In the Home Ec. Department there is a chart showing what colors one can best wear. Some girls are lucky enough to be able to wear all of them, while others should avoid some.

Neatness is one style that should always be fashionable. As one teacher said, "I'm glad you high school girls today wear clean shoes. A few years ago girls didn't like to wear their shoes unless they were scuffed up and dirty." Of course high school age, and for that matter the older generation, too, now and then have some peculiar ideas on what is fashionable.

The neatest boy and girl of the month are Wanda and Barland High.
