

Visiting With The Elementary Grades ----- Sonja Manning

Snows and the enrolling of new students have competed for highest interest in the grammar grades this month.

STUDENTS

Bruce Perry, Steve Pittman, Jessie Brantley, Milton Whitley, Dorothy Patterson, Dianne Stott, Jean Taylor, Joseph Perry, Norman Bryant, Ann Taylor, Dewayne Taylor, Faye Bryant, Nancy Burnette, and Otelia (Tillie) Taylor are the students who have enrolled since Christmas. A hearty welcome to each; we are glad to have you.

STUDIES

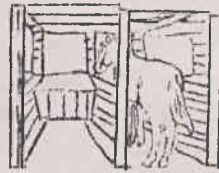

Safety programs and birds are being studied by Mrs. Florabelle Bynum's first and second grade.

"Just Imagine," supplementary reading books, have captured the interest of Mrs. Rachel Paschall's fourth grade.

Have you seen an Eskimo village? If not, visit Mrs. Olivia Barnes' second and third grade; they have a miniature copy of one.

To make us feel very much at home, all we have to do is drop in Mrs. Effie Hagwood's first grade and take a look at a model farm.

It may be winter in Bailey, but Mrs. Rudolph Glover's second grade has been transported to "Summer In The Mountains." The class is painting a frieze portraying the mountains and the characters they are reading about in this unit.

Health booklets are being made by Mrs. J. P. Underwood's sixth grade, showing the main parts of the body.

Vocabulary building is an outcome of reading books by Miss Cleo Eatmon's third grade. Naturally, since this is the month of February, their drawings and their play activities are centering around Washington, Lincoln, and Valentines.

PROGRAMS

Two rooms have been busy this month practicing PTA and chapel programs, Mrs.

T. C. May's fifth and sixth and Mrs. R. G. L. Edwards' eighth grade.

SERVINGS

While Mrs. May's and Mrs. Underwood's rooms were having snow cream, Mrs. Glover's room was being rewarded for winning the PTA Banner. They had doughnuts and chocolate fudge.

Miss Rachel Bissette's seventh grade had a Valentine King and Queen. The Queen contestants were Janet Weaver, Peggy Eatmon, and Ida Jean Williams, while the King contestants were Jerry Bissette, Brady Bailey, and Carroll Ferrell. The contest ended February 11.

Why Not VISIT DREXEL'S SEWING ROOM?
SHE DOES SEWING OF ALL TYPES, SPECIALIZES IN DESIGNING AND MAKING FORMAL WEAR.

HER HOME IS LOCATED NEXT TO DR. NEWELL'S OFFICE.

Go In To See Her Today