

B.H.S. Participant In Finer Bailey Bid

School beautification, one of the projects of the Finer Bailey Program, is under the supervision of J. W. Weaver and his committee—Mrs. E. R. Horton, Miss Edith Farmer, and J. H. Wells.

Wells has mapped out plans that if carried out will give additional recreational areas and will lead to beautification of the front grounds.

RECREATION-PARKING AREA

His plans call for a paved recreation and parking area from Farmer's line, across drive to a line straight out from the lunch room drive to the street. He has pointed out how this will provide a parking area and/or recreation center for skating and basketball.

GROUND BEAUTIFICATION

After this project is undertaken, Wells advocates sowing the front lawn in grass and setting a row of crepe myrtle and dogwood along the street.

Mrs. Horton's plans call for beautification of the cafeteria-home ec. building.

Miss Farmer and the seniors' project includes beautifying the front of the building.

IT DIDN'T PAY

Returning from a tournament game in Rocky Mount, some boys from Bailey, trying to be smart, took a short cut and discovered they were lost. After forty-five minutes of wandering they found the way to Bailey.

Bus Drivers Continue No-Accident Record

For six consecutive years, the Bailey School busses have not had an accident. The school is endeavoring to continue this record for years to come by complying with a State ruling.

Required by law now is a special course in driving for all high school students. Every student of Bailey School has had this course taught by M. W. Weaver and W. G. Edwards.

Principal Weaver believes this training will provide better school bus drivers in the future. Beginning next year, the freshmen health class will have the course as a regular study.

To serve the students better and equalize the number of students on the busses, the routes were changed February 3.

A special activity bus has been purchased by the PTA to provide transportation for the students attending school activities.
