

Cafeteria Provides Required Vitamins

"We are anxious for everyone to eat in the lunchroom because he obtains the required vitamins in each meal," says Mrs. K. F. Lewis, lunchroom supervisor.

All lunches include the 7 basic foods: a meat, vegetable, fruit, milk, dessert, bread, and butter, Mrs. Lewis reports.

Menu

Each menu is checked by the State School Lunch Program to see if it contains all the necessary vitamins.

For the month of October the government gave the lunchroom a quantity of canned roast pork, boil ham, pinto and lima beans, and cheese. The menus for the month were built around these surplus commodities.

Milk is sold to any student for 3¢ a cup. During September, 12,020 cups were purchased by students and teachers.

Workers

Mrs. Everette Lamm and Mrs. E. O. Strickland assist Mrs. Lewis in the lunchroom. Twenty-three students also help each day. These people prepare and serve an average of 450 student plates daily and 17 adult plates.

Band Members Strive To Raise Money

Band members and their parents are working to raise money for instruments and uniforms.

Picking cotton and sponsoring tobacco-giving contest in school and home Stanley parties are ways used to date to add to the treasury.

Mrs. Willis Finch and Mrs. Dan E. Christian, mothers of two of the band students, were separate Stanley Party hostesses. They gave all profits they received to the band.

B.H.S. STUDENT RETURNS

Attending Charles L. Coon for a short time, MAC BOWEN, former Bailey High School student, has returned to resume his studies here.

When Mac's parents moved to Wilson last year, he enrolled at Charles L. Coon.

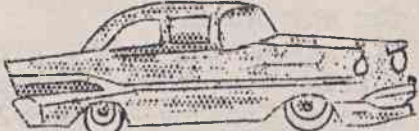

Deciding he likes Bailey better, he has returned to graduate with the present senior class.

JUNIORS ILLUSTRATE BOOKS

For their second book reports the juniors made something to illustrate their books: posters, book marks, costume dolls, booklets, drawings, designing of houses, to name a few.
