

Lost And Found Dept. Peace Study Interests Number Of Students

BY JEWEL WHITLEY

Stray items around school just seem to find a way of accumulating on Principal M. W. Weaver's desk and on shelves in the office. So great is becoming the accumulation over the years that he is willing for the students to have them gratuitously or else he might conduct a rummage sale.

COLLECTED ARTICLES

The list includes 1 pencil--4 ball point pens--2 lead pencils--4 fountain pens.

5 combs--pair of black gloves--one brown glove.

A girl's 17 jewel watch with a yellow band and a boy's New Haven watch with a brown band.

Handkerchief--red sweater--rainbow colored cap--red and a white belt---brown billfold--black and a red coin purse.

Ruler--paper clip--hair-pin--white beads--finger nail clipper--locket--toy police badge--magnifying glass--rabbit's foot.

CONTINUED POLICY

Even though the list grows, the principal still insists that you bring lost articles to the office. Kay Wiggs found this helpful when Fred Lamm found her watch and took it to the office.

Shelby Williams, school secretary, said that a first grader, who brings in everything she finds, discovered a cigarette stub one day and brought it to her. If everyone was that faithful, the office might soon be full of lost items.

Striving to promote world peace is the motive for students' entering this year's Peace Contest the contestants declare.

Those participating in this major study are all high school students, who believe that "world peace begins with youth".

The main topic for each speech is "The United Nations--Its Problems and Opportunities".

Winner of the speaking contest, scheduled to last from six to twelve minutes per speech, is to receive a gold key. This award always goes to the person presenting, in the eyes of the judges, the best composed and delivered speech, reports the speech sponsor, Miss Idalia Oglesby.

Entering from the freshman class are Janet Weaver and Marjorie Hinton. Kay Wiggs, Fannie Ruth Howell, and Alice Ruth Issette are to speak from the sophomore class. Three seniors-- Louise Wells, Lane Farmer, and Keith Glover--are also entering.

'57 Filter-Flo Washer

W. B. Privette & Co.

BAILEY, NORTH CAROLINA

Let Us Fill Your Oil Drum Today

Corbett Oil Co.

For Quick Service, Call 2286

BAILEY

NORTH CAROLINA