Students Engage In Shopwork

Occupying a big part of ag. students' time this month is their shopwork.

Seniors DALE WELLS, CARROL BOTTOMS, CHARLES WILLIAMS, and J. P. LAMM have been building props for the senior play this month.

Finishing their cedar chest are GENE PEARSON, JIMMY DEW, ALLAN PHILLIPS, ADRIAN MITCHELL, LEWIS WILLIAMS, WILLIAM STOTT, DICK DEW, and WILLIAM LEE HOPKINS.

RANDALL HINTON and MICK ELMON are completing a hog feeder.

CARLIE PETTE and MAX LUCAS are working on end tables.

Getting a general idea of how a washing machine works is CLOYCE BUNN.

With the help of their adviser, JACK MEDLIN, GLOVER BRAY, MAX LUCAS, and WILLIAM LEE HOPKINS painted Joe Bissett's oil truck.

STUDENTS END DRIVE

FFA students completed the selling of calendar ads earlier this month. The sale was a means of raising funds for the chapter.

The profit will be used to purchase recreational equipment for the shop.

WYNE BUNN and DALE WELLS were the two top salesmen. They will receive official FFA sport shirts.

Ag. Dept Provides Recreation Facilities

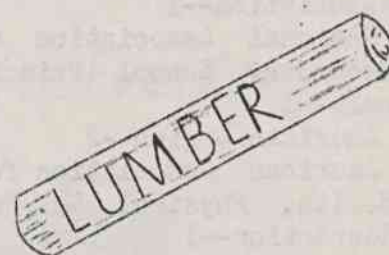

That all work and no play will make Jack a dull boy is a realized fact by the Ag. Department. For this reason one of its requirements is sponsoring recreational activities.

A number of barbeque chicken suppers have been cooked this year by chapter members. CARROL BOTTOMS, DALE WELLS, and ADRIAN MITCHELL also cooked a supper for the Farm Bureau.

INTEREST SHOWN

Enthusiasm for volleyball and horseshoe pitching led to the construction of a volleyball court and horseshoe pits.

Tournaments in volleyball and horseshoe pitching are scheduled during the year by the recreation committee. The volleyball tournament was won last month by the juniors.
