

Want Ads

Dial 303-1

Rates: Cleverness

WANTED.

A great big pat-on-the-back given our basketball teams for their record.

More effort put forth to raise poor grades in various subjects.

Students to stop meddling with others' lockers. The victims.

To have one class without an interruption. J.P.F.

More parents from the junior class to attend PTA. W. G. Edwards

More book reports to make an A in English. The majority of high school students.

Time to catch up on our lessons. Journalism students that went to New York.

Someone to clean out our locker. S. M. and P. B.

The attractive basketball and chain Lynda Strickland wears.

The basketball championship trophy in the Nash County tournament next year. Everybody.

My short, short hair to grow out so I'll have a pony tail. Several short-haired girls.

An effective way to keep the seniors out of the juniors plans. Please contact the juniors if you have the answer.

Everyone to keep on coming to school now that we have our additional teacher. M. W. Weaver

Ability to keep books as neatly as Roselyn Turnage kept her practice set.

TO BUY. A system for completing work before midnight. P.B. and B.B.

A remedy for failing to understand Shakespeare's plays without Mrs. Farmer's explanation. Seniors
The feeling of wholesome school spirit.

ARTICLES FOR SALE.

All the tests we have been having recently. The high school students.

A chair in study hall with part of the back broken out. Beth Harris.

Some old worn out tennis shoes. C.L.F. and A.B.

One slightly used learner's permit. Contact B.K.W.

Extra copies of the BUGLE. Keep parents and friends posted on school affairs. The staff.

Worn out shoes and tired feet. Contact journalism students who went to New York.

FOR RENT.

Peeks at the sportsmanship trophy in the trophy case.

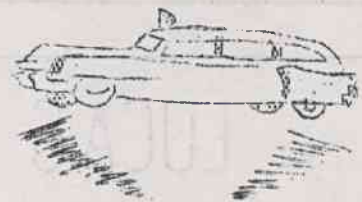

Staff member to woman----
"Would you like to buy a BAILEY BUGLE?"

Woman--"Lord no, child, my husband can't blow one and I don't have time."

The sophomore English classes have just completed a study of George Eliot's Silas Marner.

The students' thanks go to Mrs. Lewis for preparing such warm tasty lunches during the winter.

For An Understanding
Service
IN Those Crucial Hours
DEPEND ON

Joyner's
Funeral Home

Wilson, N. C. Phone 3134

For The Loveliest
Spring Hair Styles

Visit or Call

Lillian's
Beauty Shop

Bailey, N. C.

Phone 306-1