P. T. A. HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

High appraisals from parents and neighbors from surrounding community were given to our school when OPEN HOUSE was held in November.

Annually the P. T. A. sponsors Open House so that all parents and friends may get a better idea of the work and studies carried on in the school.

Projects, art work, samples of class work, and class activities are put on display. In each room teachers and students were on hand to explain any phase of the work on exhibit. Teachers are always ready to discuss with the parents any problems that arise.

The P. T. A. held a short business meeting, then everyone was invited to visit the various classrooms.

After touring the entire school, everyone visited the lunchroom where refreshments were served by the Social Committee.

STUDENTS SEE MANY FILMS DURING YEAR

Bailey's educational program has been greatly enriched this year by the addition of several new films and filmstrips, many of which were purchased through the N. D. E. A. These films not only aid the teacher, but also give the students a clearer understanding of the subject being taught.

Through effective demonstrations on film, the advanced math class has learned to use the slide ruler. W. G. EDWARDS reports that even his poorest students show a remarkable interest in subject matter being taught on the screen. The Spanish class received seven filmstrips depicting the conquests made by the Spanish explorers. "It's just like seeing a movie," exclaimed one grammar grade student after seeing a film on nature. Both teachers and students agree that films are a valuable asset to the school's curriculum.

This gives each student a total of sixteen credits. However, most B.H.S. students graduate with seventeen credits due to the fact that all ninth graders are assigned to five classes. Many students finish school with a total of twenty credits.

Our students can be ready to enter his profession or to continue his education after graduation if he cares to.

B.H.S. students also have a choice of participating in the many clubs and sports in our school.
