

FASHIONS AND FADS

Number One item in "Fad" world this year is black and patterned hose. Nearly every female freshmen, some sophomores, and a few juniors and seniors are to be seen in them. Designs vary from diamonds to stripes. Knee socks are more popular than usual.

TREND

The girls of Bailey High are keeping up with the latest trend as concerns other bits of apparel. Scotch grain and alligator loafers adorn the feet. Pastel skirts and sweaters have kept the girls feminine all winter. Fisherman-knit sweaters, and skirts have been found first choice, but were followed closely by Cable knit and Herringbone.

One of the fads that appears to have become permanent is the charm bracelet. Some girls are wearing two and three bracelets together.

HAIR STYLES

The hair styles at Bailey High are changing. Teasing, excessive teasing, that is out-out-out! Nearly all girls have long, soft looking hair, or short-easy-to-care-for bobs, as the Beatle-look. Another Beatle-fad is boots, both long and short boots. The boys who are wearing Alpaca sweaters and Scotch-grain loafers are dropping their stiff Butch and flat top hair cuts to Caesar or Beatle hair cuts.

GRADE MOTHERS SERVE FOUR YEARS

During our four years in high school, our class has been fortunate enough to have the same seven grade-mothers.

They are Mrs. T. C. May, Mrs. John D. Waskins, Mrs. J. Willis Finch, Mrs. Tommie Naron, Mrs. O. L. Ray, Mrs. Charles Creech, Mrs. Jack Dameron, and Mrs. Jack Finch.

Every party or social of any type that they have prepared for us has been enjoyed and appreciated tremendously by each member of the class.

NEW EXPERIENCE

The business department now has access to an Edison Envoy, a transcribing machine. This gives each girl taking shorthand an opportunity to learn how to operate a transcriber. Nash County owns two of these, and they are rotated from school to school.

F.T.A. ELECTS OFFICERS

For the year of 1964-65, the Future Teachers of America chose the following officers: Mary Sue Dameron-President; Martha Watson-Vice President; and Margaret Finch-Secretary-Treasurer. Again this year the club is privileged to have Miss Oglesby as its sponsor.

PROGRAMS

All the members have enjoyed a variety of interesting programs about college curriculum, college activities, and other subjects that are directly related.

On November 14, 1964, a delegation of nine attended the State Future Teachers of America's convention at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. This was the event that highlighted the year.

Presently, the club members are observing and participating in the classroom activities in various rooms, grade 1-8.
