Reporter Crone Learns All About Optional Studies

Q. Will the colleges allow students graduating with this course to enter?

A. Yes, all colleges of the Southern Association. The Southern Association colleges will take the student and let him continue the course begun in high school.

Q. Do you believe this will help students to make up their minds in regard to their life's work?

A. It will help, and then we shall be more nearly realizing the aim of a progressive school, really preparing the student for life.

Aviation Enthusiasts Exhibit Many Planes

Club Members Build Flying and Gasoline Models; Feature in Air Show

Whrrrrrr! Bang! Bzzzzzz! Went the small gasoline motor in the GMARC (Goldsboro Model Airplane Research Club) booth at the School Fair. The motor attracted a very large crowd around the booth.

The aviators "to-be" had almost everything imaginable in their booth—scale and flying models, plane kits and many other things involved in the model building.

Club members, composed mostly of high school students, entered the Carolina Aero Club Air Show held here a few weeks ago and featured in it.

Reese Bailey and Ted Burwell have built a gasoline model, probably the first in Goldsboro, and Jimmy Whitaker and Bobby Hatch have begun work on one.

Mr. L. L. Hallman is head of the group and is largely responsible for organizing the club.

JUNIORS OUTSTANDING IN SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Democracy of Class
Junior democracy has been very prominent in 1936-37. Their outstanding democratic steps are the election of the Board of Editors (see masthead page 2), their establishment of the Junior Council and giving class officers to different people each year.

The Junior Council, composed of the homeroom and class officers, meets once a month at the council members' homes to discuss the business to come before their class meeting. Miss Ipock, class sponsor, has played a large part in all class projects.

Sports and Scholarship
In the field of sports the Junior Class has been far from lagging. By winning the interclass basketball tournament and track meet, and the only two intra-class sports meets held during the year the Juniors are at the top of the GHS sports ladder.

The Juniors have furnished two captains; "Speed" Hollowell captained the basketball team and Floyd McDowell led the baseball team.

Junior scholarship is at a high standard. Though the Freshmen have surpassed them in the number on the honor roll, the Juniors still push the large class with a close second.

This year the lowest marshals average was 91.5, showing that the scholarship in the class is very high.

Reliable Station JSR Glances at Reception

Station JSR brings you now the details of tonight's annual celebration. . . . Yowsah! Everyone is having a swell time tonight, down here in the Gym in the month of May. . . . For the floor show we've just had a dance review by Miss Katherine Mitcham's dance class; a minuet by a group of freshmen; a sailor dance by some sophomores, and a swell dance by Mr. Mahaffey and Daphne. Miss Mildred Rawlings has given 2 readings. . . . Also! Faison Charleton, of Raleigh, just sang three sweet numbers. Boy! Oh boy! . . . And now that everyone has cleaned their plates dry of the ice cream and cake, let's journey around and see what's what. . . . I see Creech and "Pod" doing a little conversational talk to Carolyn and "Stoop" . . . Ummmm! There's that Spence boy with the singing visitor, Miss Charleton. I hear that she is spending the night with Scottie, Oh, yes! I see Scottie and Mac' as usual . . . Ah'. There is James C. and Jean E. together . . . Oh! Heck! There goes Heyward doing a little trucking! Hear Heyward tagged along "Teensy" S . . . Uh! Huh! There's old William, "Berry," "Thornton," "Thornton - Berg," "Billy," Thompson, Jr., with Nancy. I know Nancy's holding her head high tonight because she got invited to the reception by the President of the hosts. . . . I see old "Babe" is with that dashing young Hollingsworth gentleman in the receiving line. . . . Well, folks, I don't suppose I'd better close without telling that Reese and Betty C. surely enjoyed themselves (especially Reese) . . . Hmmm! There's Ozello with Dees! Thank you, Dees. Glad you invited her before I had to for niceness. Moral! (I believe Dees got the date last May). All the teachers are dancing and seem to be having a good time. There goes Mr. Johnson with his pardner. . . . The Juniors have now formed an "S" and are singing "Seniors, Dear Seniors." Guess that means that things are about over. I sure hate to go. . . . Well, with these last words we close; I am with Bobbie Anne! R. W., '38.

Apprentices Presses Operate During Fair

Boys Print Thousands of Fair Programs in Exhibit; Set Up Shop in Booth

Stamp! Stamp! Stamp! went the "roller press" of the printing class exhibit as the high school printers rolled off thousands of School Fair programs

The boys had a press right in their exhibit. They had brought a type cabinet, and placed it there for service, as well as a make-up table and other things necessary for printing.

On the walls of their booth samples of all the printing the class has done this year were shown.

Some of the samples of printing the class exhibited were school sick, conduct, excuse and daily report slips; report cards, calling cards, business receipts, monogram certificates and many other things.

The boys have printed fair invitations, Junior-Senior invitations, Junior Play programs, calling cards and other things in the past weeks.

Mr. Burt Johnson is teacher of the class. Morris Warrick, Joe Pearson and "Speed" Hollowell are his chief aids.

This is the second year that the print shop has operated.

A Speedy Recovery

For the past few weeks, due to illness, we have missed three Juniors and Miss Taylor, whose father has been critically ill, but is now well enough for her to return to school.

Charles Edgerton, who received head injuries in a bicycle accident, is improving. Billy Morgan, operated on for appendicitis, is much better. Also, Hardy Thompson's arm was badly broken while playing in the Wilson baseball game.

Greenville High School of Greenville, South Carolina supports a girls' tennis, swimming and baseball team.

Class Sets Precedent In Honoring Seniors

The class of '38 set a precedent in Junior-Senior receptions when they honored the Seniors in a manner heretofore unused in GHS.

From all reports, everyone seemed to think it one of the best ever held. The chicken, salads and other heavy foods were missing. Instead, only ice cream, cake and punch were served. Card tables, covering over a half of the floor, were attractively decorated with candles, flowers and colorful napkins. On the white background of the gymnasium, artificial roses, intertwined with ivy, were placed in garlands. In the back, white Grecian columns stood with a lily pond in front, where a group of Juniors danced a Greek esthetic dance.

A floor show of several acts opened the program. James Heyward acted as master of ceremonies.

The receiving line, consisting of officers and their escorts from both classes, greeted everyone cordially.

GHS Scores in Music

Annie Laurie Howell, Jane Smith and Tommy Snydes placed first, second and third, respectively, in the State Music Contest at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, April 21-23.

Jane, alto soloist, won second place in a group of 10. Annie Laurie tied with nine others for first in the class A piano group of 14. Tommy, bass soloist, received a rating of 3 in the class A group.
