Well, studes, things have been going fast for the Quakes on the hardwood court, and although the Quakes have had a few tough breaks, they are still up there in the conference standings. Their record shows that they have won five and dropped only three, two of which were to Wilson out of the conference. The only conference set-back came at the hands of the Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets on their home court in an upset which the Quakes could not understand. But nevertheless, the Quakes have beat such top ranking teams as Rocky Mount, Greenville, and Washington.

With a boost in attendance, the Quakes could surely pick up. And it's up to you studes to give the boys moral support by being present at the forth-coming home games.

The cheer leaders are to be congratulated for their fine work at the games which gives the students a chance to participate in organized cheering. This cheering takes place before and during the halves of each game and really helps the players to perform better. Let's help the players and the cheer leaders by being present at some of the games. How about it?

Although it's a little bit out of season, two of our flashing heroes of the gridiron who have made football history in GHS have picked their choice for an All-Female Faculty Football Team from the women teachers in GHS. These two potential All-American football players are Bud Pate, another of those famous Pate boys, and Bobby Heyward, geometry fiend and an all-round athlete.

After careful consideration, they have finally made the selections and had a pretty tough time doing so. There was such an abundance of material that the going got rough; please don't feel slighted if you are not among those picked because the boys really considered every female teacher here at GHS.

So without ado, here are the picks:
 End.....Mrs. Rosalind White
 End.....Miss Mary Ann Gatch
 Tackle.....Miss Mabel Hamer
 Tackle.....Miss Clytee Ward
 Guard.....Mrs. Clifton H. Bradford
 Guard.....Miss Mary Craig Suiter
 Center.....Miss Martha Mae Glazener
 Quarterback.....Miss Sara Falkener
 Halfback.....Miss Katherine Kalmar
 Halfback.....Miss Lena Taylor
 Fullback.....Miss Ida Gardner
 Coach.....Miss Cora Fuller Collier
 Waterwoman.....Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman
 Financial Adviser.....Miss Janie C. Ipick

These are the picks and perhaps we can encourage these two bright athletic minded kids (ulp! what am I saying?) to pick an All-Female Faculty basketball team. If you sports minded studes are still sports minded after this session and like these picks, how about letting these boys know? If you like them, we may get them to work some more.

Well, that's all for this issue and I'll be back again next issue. Until then, come to all the games you can possibly attend and help support your team and cheer leaders by cheering when you attend games—so long!

Varsity, Juniors Hit Win Column

Out of the first nine starts, the Quake varsity has won 6 and lost 3, while the Junior Quakes have won 6 and lost only 2.

Varsity Games

On December 19 the Quakes played host to Rocky Mount to open their current schedule. They defeated the Blackbirds 27-26 in a thrill packed game. Alsbrook led the scoring with 19 for the losers, while King of the Quakes racked up 10.

The Quakes went to Wilson on January 2 and were defeated by the Cyclones 38-26 in a non-conference game. Warren led the Quakes with 9 points, while Morton paced the visitors with 12.

In a return engagement with the Wilson squad on January 6 here on the local court, the Quakes were again defeated and this time by 26-21. King with 8 points led the night's scoring. Fulghum, Morton, and Noulles each collected 6 points apiece for the winners.

Playing their first conference game of the season on January 8 at Goldsboro, the Quakes drew first blood in conference play as they demonstrated their basketball prowess by trampling the Greenies 26-21. Warren of the Quakes and Brown of the visitors led in scoring with 10 points each.

On January 13 the Quakes continued their winning streak by proving their ability as basketeers as they swamped the Washington Pam Pack by 28-11 here. Heyward with 7 was high.

Traveling down to Elizabeth City on January 16, the Quakes lost their first conference game by 28-21 in an upset in the conference. Brinson with 13 points for the victors was high for the evening; King of the Quakes was runner up with 8.

Again on the road, the Quakes moved to Kinston to put another conference scalp under their belts by defeating them 27-9 on January 23. King of the Quakes led the two teams with 14 points for the night.

Moving down to New Bern on January 30, the Quakes smashed the Bears 52-22, making this the Quakes fifth conference win. King with 15 points led the Quakes while Cannon led the Bears with 7.

Junior Games

The Junior Quakes have played 8 games and have won 6 and lost 2. They have won from Wilson by 27-16, 31-17; Greenville, 32-11; Ayden, 15-10; Kinston, 43-24; and Roanoke Rapids, 31-4. They have been defeated by Rocky Mount 29-31, and by La Grange 20-32.

ALMOST!!

All the shouting and noise did not help Quakemen Bud Pate (back to camera), Hot Heyward (number 6), and Clyde King (directly in front of Pate), to put the ball through the hoop as the Quakes defeated Roanoke Rapids January 27.

Tracksters Starting Seasonal Workout

Coach J. T. Hilton, GHS track director, has announced that several boys are now working out for track and he hopes to enter these boys in the Inter-Collegiate Track Meet at Chapel Hill in an indoor affair on February 28.

He stated that a better track team would probably take shape this spring due to the great number of older and younger boys out for the cinder sport. Bud Pate, Bob Kemp, and Albert Handley are the only returning letter men from last year's track squad and a great deal will depend on these boys.

Last year eight letter men who were track participants graduated. They are Izzy Ormond, Russell Johnson, Andy Smith, Tom Dameron, Ray Carr, Norwood Kornegay, Paul Starling, and Tommy Edgerton.

To Enter State Meet

The team will enter the State Meet at Chapel Hill, the Quadrangle Meet at Durham, and during the current season will probably schedule meets with High Point, Greenville, and Fayetteville.

Last year the Quakes made only 5½ points at the State Meet at Chapel Hill and four of these points were due to Bud Pate, who won first place in the javelin throw. Pate is a returning letter man and will probably play a big part in the shot put, discus, and javelin throw.

Even if Coach Hilton doesn't have such a successful track squad this season, with the material he has out he can surely build up a track squad in the next two years. He states that young material is the backbone of any squad and he urges all freshmen and sophomores, especially, to come out for track. If you have not signed up as yet, there is still plenty of time to do so.

The Goldsboro Earthquakes will take on a strong Greenville quintet there tonight in a conference tilt in what will be the second meeting of the season for the two teams, the Quakes coming out on top in the first tilt 26-21.

These two teams are the strongest teams in the Northwestern Conference and this battle is the headliner for the week in the conference. Both teams are battling for conference honors; the Phantoms and the Quakes have been in the finals of the conference championship for the past three years, all three times the Phantoms having come out on top. This game is more or less a grudge game for the Phantoms, who are out to beat the Quakes at all cost to pay them back for the shellacking the Quakes handed them earlier in the season.

Coach Jeffrey has been putting the Quakes through the paces and has been stressing offensive and defensive work. Handling the ball has also been an important factor in practice as well as defensive playing, getting rebounds, and intercepting passes. Shooting practice has given the squad some confidence and the Quakes seem pretty well prepared to go at the sound of the whistle.

The Quakes who have been pushing their team forward are Clyde King, Bud Pate, Hot Heyward, and Rusty Nickens. In the past few games Rusty has been the bright star with his side court shots. King's work on the offensive and defensive is notable and Pate's and Heyward's work on the defense is a credit to these boys. Nickens seems to have been the needed spark in the past few games and he may be in there tonight at the start.

The probable starting line-up and reserves for tonight's game are:

King	f	Herring
Warren	f	Kannan
Pate	c	Charlton
Heyward	g	Invernizzi
Culbertson	g	Nickens

Quakes Win From Tarboro

The Goldsboro Earthquakes boys and girls basketball squads defeated the lads and lassies from Tarboro Tuesday night here at the local gym, the boys winning 37-21 and the girls winning 31-26.

King and Kannan were the high scorers for the night with 8 points apiece while Culbertson and Heyward were the outstanding defensive stars for the Quake boys.
