

GHS Strives to Help Uncle Sam By All-Out Defense Effort

The above picture is of the scrap metal drive committee and captains. Bill Stafford was appointed a captain after the picture was taken. For the names of all captains see the story below.

SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES

- One hundred girls have learned to knit.
- Twenty-eight girls are enrolled in the First Aid class.
- Twenty-eight girls are enrolled in the Home Nursing class.
- Defense stamps are being sold in school.
- Waste paper is being collected.
- Scrap metal is being collected.
- Forty stretchers have been made by industrial arts classes.
- Lapboards, letter holders, etc., are being made by art classes.
- Books are being collected for the Victory Book Campaign.
- A class in radio communications for adults is being instructed at night by a GHS teacher.
- Nine teachers have completed a Red Cross First Aid Course.

The pictures above were snapped at the knitting and first aid classes. Evidently GHS girls are getting ready to play an important part in defense.

109 Books Collected

One hundred nine books had been turned in to the library up to February 4 for the Victory Book Campaign, which is sponsored by the American Library Association, the Red Cross, and the U.S.O.

The purpose of the campaign is to collect gifts of books for soldiers, sailors, and marines; and to provide reading matter for the U.S.O. houses outside of camp.

Types of books needed are: fiction, westerns, detectives, crime, and adventure; non-fiction: current affairs, crime, English grammars, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, shorthand, business and salesmanship, photography, sports, music, travel, and history.

Co-chairman for Wayne County are Miss Mary F. De Vane, librarian Goldsboro Public Library, Mr. Herman Weil, representative for the Red Cross and the U.S.O. Grace Ennis, chairman of the U.S.O. library committee, is the GHS chairman.

Seniors Back Metal Drive

Thirteen enthusiastic senior boys have been appointed captains of different districts of Goldsboro in the Scrap Metal Drive under the auspices of the Senior Class.

The captains were appointed by a committee elected from the senior homerooms to plan the drive. Dickie Weatherly, chairman of the committee, in assembly on January 30, asked for volunteers to work with the captains in their districts. Approximately 100 students responded. The captains assigned the helpers different streets in their districts and named central points to pile the metal. There will be a house-to-house canvass by the helpers.

Superintendent Ray Armstrong, chairman of Civilian Defense in Wayne County, has named a three-man committee, headed by Mr. Frank McGinnis, to work with the Seniors in their drive. They have agreed to furnish trucks in which to haul the metal to the dealers. The other members of the committee are Mr. Frank Seymour and Mr. Robert Musgrave.

The captains are: William Westmoreland, Keith McClenny, H. F. Ferguson, Lyndon Hart, J. D. Pike, Albert Handley, Joe Glascox, Billy Wynn, Dick Borden, Clifton Daniel, Philman Ham, Bill Stafford, and Lee Adams.

The members of the committee which did the planning are: Dickie Weatherly, chairman, Alice Graham, Billy Wynn, Joe Glascox, Helen Bissette, Barbara Edwards, Elaine Brown, Hazel Brady, and William Westmoreland, with Bob Powell an ex-officio member and Miss Ida Gordner, adviser.

56 Girls Enroll In New Classes

A total of 56 junior and senior girls from Mrs. White's, Miss Gordner's, and Mrs. Bradford's classes have enrolled in the new First Aid and Home Nursing courses, which have recently been organized as a part of the defense work in Goldsboro High School.

The First Aid class, taught by Miss Martha Campbell, requires twenty hours of training to complete the course. The Home Nursing class, taught by Mrs. Milton Clark, requires thirty hours.

The girls from Mrs. Bradford's room taking First Aid include: Nancy Paige Swift, Elaine Brown, Gertrude Edgerton, Hannah Shrago, Ruth Weil, Helen Bissette, Hilda Bell, Barbara Edwards, Betty Ward, Jane Lee Waters, Mary Emma Rouse, Agnes Hallow, Frances Gaddy, Fanny Lou Parker, Leona Potter, Dorothy Jessup, and Annie Howell.

The girls from Miss Gordner's class taking First Aid are: Margaret Holt, Susan Lupton, Jeanne Manning, Jean Gibson, Miriam Sholar, Elizabeth Stanley, Mary Ann Hunt, Lyda Winslow, Vann Lancaster, Martha Blue Purser, and Hilda Liles.

Purl Two--Knit Two

Knit one—purl one—knit one and purl two (er something). Frankly, I think that I'm about the only one that didn't quite learn to knit but 99 others did, and they will help keep the war refugees warm this winter by knitting sweaters and other things for the Red Cross.

Miss Miriam Koch and her Home Economics classes taught these girls the fundamentals of knitting in three lessons. Classes were held January 15 through January 22 during regular school days.—H.D.

Stretchers Being Made

To provide stretchers needed by the Red Cross, Mr. J. H. Askins' industrial arts classes are undertaking the project of making forty. The building trades classes are constructing the wood framework; metal trades classes, the metal parts; and the home economics students, the stretcher covers.
