

Today's SA Balloting Midpoint In Spring Elections

Juniors To Fete Seniors, Faculty

Tomorrow night, the long-awaited, eagerly looked-for Junior-Senior reception will be held in the William Street Gym at 8:30, with the Juniors entertaining the Seniors.

The theme of the reception is unknown to the Seniors, and they have a great deal of curiosity to know exactly what it's going to be. Some Seniors wonder if it will have an Arabian setting like the one used by the class of '29, when the whole program fitted in with the setting. Disagreeing with this, a few Seniors think it will be a May garden, such as the one given in '34.

However, the Juniors are keeping quiet and for all the Seniors know, the theme may have some connection with a branch of the service, like the one given about the Navy by the class of '42.

The committee chairmen and advisers working on the Junior-Senior are: Program: Martha Blue Purser, chairman, Miss Glazener and Miss Falkener, advisers; Invitation, Justyne Barbour, chairman, Miss Hamer, adviser; Refreshments: Hilda Liles, chairman, Miss Dubois, adviser; Music, Elizabeth Stanley, chairman.

Drive Uncovers Dental Defects

As a follow-up of the Perfect Teeth Campaign in March of 1941, Mrs. Clifton H. Bradford's first period sociology class conducted another dental drive last week. A total of 285 students were examined and 181 were found to have defective teeth and 104 had perfect teeth.

Mrs. Bradford said: "Each of the five dentists expressed amazement at the large number of students whose teeth were in perfect condition. This was not true of the Freshman Class, which would seem a double proof of the fact that last year's campaign really bore results."

Doctors Who Aided

The five dentists of Goldsboro who cooperated to make this drive possible, by giving their time and services free to the school are: Dr. J. N. Johnson, Dr. S. D. Poole, Dr. G. L. Overman, Dr. R. E. Williams, and Dr. A. R. Mallard.

In the dental examinations given under the Physical Education program, 46 were found to have teeth needing attention. When these figures are included 441 students have been examined out of the total enrollment of 186 and 227 need treatment.

Junior Rotarians Elected

Lee Adams was elected as this week's Junior Rotarian. Others receiving this honor by balloting in the Senior homerooms since March are: Bob Kemp, Billy Charlton, Bob Powell, Roy Epps, Joe Glasscox, and Albert Handley.

20 Students Attend Convention; Excellent Ideas Brought Back

"Evaluation of Student Council Problems" was the theme of the third annual convention of the Northeastern District of the North Carolina State Student Council Congress held on April 10 in Kinston to which GHS sent 20 delegates.

In the assembly meeting, Major W. A. Graham, superintendent of Kinston schools, welcomed the delegates, and Mr. J. P. Booth, principal of Grainger High School, developed the theme.

Reporters summarized the points discussed in the three panels in the general meeting after lunch.

Panels

In the panel on "Evaluation of Student Morale and Cooperation" lack of participation in school activities was attributed to lack of interest, participation in activities outside of school, and unfriendliness between students and teachers. Richard Duncan of Greenville led this panel and Bob Kemp, a GHS official delegate, was its reporter.

That the activity ticket has proved rather unsuccessful in other schools, that in several schools students pay a compulsory newspaper fee, and that socials and concessions are used to raise money for Student Councils in many schools were some of the facts uncovered in the panel on "Evaluation of Financial Problems". Edwin Lee, another GHS official delegate, was the panel leader, and Gordon Heath, Kinston, was the reporter.

"Of the five schools represented in our panel only 2 have some form of student court," reported Elizabeth West, Greenville, on "Evaluation of Student Courts," which was led by J. A. West of Wilmington.

A constitution for the NDNCCS-CC was adopted at the business meeting.

Agnes Morton, Wilmington, president; Jean Griffin, Rocky Mount, vice-president; and Margaret West, Kinston, secretary, were elected officers for next year's Congress. The convention will be held at New Hanover High School in Wilmington, as that is the school of the president. The treasurer will be a member of the host school

May 7 Set As Date For Class Elections

The Hi News staff scooped the nominees for class elections and is announcing them in today's election issue. Class elections will be held May 7.

Nominees are: rising Sophomores: president, Harriette Thompson, vice-president, Bruce Berkley; secretary, Marilyn Handley; treasurer, Bill Shrago.

Rising Juniors: president, Luther Britt; vice-president, Sidney Gardner; secretary, Peggy Pate; treasurer, Martha Belle Edgerton.

Rising Seniors: president, Jean Branch; vice-president, Jean Gibson; secretary, Virginia Faison; treasurer, James Whitley.

Candidates may be petitioned during the week of April 27, and May 1. Registration will be on May 4, and campaign speeches on May 5, and 6.

Nominations for officers in each class were made by a committee composed of the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, cheerleaders, and adviser of each class.

This is the second year that class elections have been held in the Spring. Since 1932 the Australian ballot system has been used in GHS. This was begun by Mr. J. W. Wilson, who at that time was principal of GHS, to accustom the students to the way that state and national elections are held. The Wayne County voting booths were borrowed for the elections until 1940, when the SA appropriated money to the Board of Elections to have four individual booths made. Bill Nufer, chairman of Board of Elections in 1939-40, drew the plans for the booths, and the Building Trades boys constructed them.

12th Year Plans Go Into Effect

As GHS progresses toward the goal of a required twelfth grade. Seniors planning to return for this additional year have the choice of either accepting their diplomas in June or returning and graduating with the Class of 1943.

Seniors who elect to refuse their diplomas and return next year will be granted full privileges of Seniors. However, students who graduate with the class of 1942 and return for advanced work will have only the privileges of a post graduate but will not pay a fee. Post graduates cannot participate in elections, or any conference athletics under present regulations.

New courses will be added, and subjects are under consideration for this additional year's work.

If a student graduates this year and returns and completes the advanced work, he will be presented a certificate stating that he has finished other standard courses since graduation.

Those planning to return will fill in a form before June requesting to continue study in GHS for the entire year. It is to be understood that they cannot drop at any desired time next year. Special cases will, of course, be taken under consideration.

Nearly 100 Students Working on Elections

Voted yet? Well, you still have both lunch periods and after school to cast your vote for the "most capable person" as the oratorical campaign managers have described them in the politicking that has been going on in GHS prior to the sixth SA election being held today.

Candidates and their campaign managers who have been in the limelight for the past week are: (by Nominating Committee) President, Ellis Blann, manager, Lyndon Hart; vice president, Dot Loftin, manager, James Crow; recording secretary, Bettie Weil, manager, Dickie Weatherly; corresponding secretary, Ila Mae West, manager, Pearl Privette; treasurer, Skinny Ellis, manager, Lois Smith.

Petitioned Candidates

Candidates running by petition are: President, George Rivenbark, manager, John Holmes; Hilda Liles, manager, Billy Charlton; Conway Rose, manager, Herbert Barbour; vice president: Elizabeth Stanley, manager, Grace Ennis, Lois Taylor, manager, Harriette Riley; recording secretary: Margaret Holt, manager, Helen Denning; corresponding secretary: Miriam Sholar, manager, Vann Lancaster; Mary Cleaves Stenhouse, manager, Martha Blue Purser; Dot Lassiter, manager, Carolyn Hollingsworth; Ann Thompson, managers, Jack Cobb and Nona Pate; treasurer, Pat Stanley, manager, Tom Shaver.

Career Clinic Open To All GHS Students

Have you seniors decided on your life career? If not, attend the career clinic to be sponsored by the SA Library Committee during next week, which is to be designated Career Week.

Miss Frances Bayne and Mrs. W. J. White will give interviews to all seniors wishing them. Miss Bayne will talk with those who would like an interview on the possibilities in the fields of their chosen careers; and Mrs. White will talk with the seniors who have not decided on the college they wish to enter next fall.

Books on occupations and college catalogs will be on display in the library.

Miss Cora Fuller Collier, GHS librarian, is preparing a mimeographed booklet on books pertaining to careers. A copy will be given to each senior.

An assembly on careers will also be given during Career Week.

Make It 100 Percent

The Board of Elections has set for its goal 100 per cent participation in both registration and voting in the spring elections this year.

"If every student that registers will vote, the officers elected will feel more like the students' choice," stated Ruth Weil, Board of Election chairman.

Vote today! Remember there are places in the world today where neither adults nor students have a part in choosing their leaders. Only 441 GHS students voted in the SA elections last year out of an enrollment of 800. Exercise your American privilege and vote today. Make this the best election yet.
