GHS Students Do Not Like Teaching

Only Eight Seniors Like Teaching

Only eight people out of one hundred and two GHS Seniors who recently filled out questionnaires said that they were interested in the teaching profession.

Four were vaguely interested; that is, they said they would teach if their other plans did not work out, and ninety said that they were positively not interested.

The reasons this last group gave for their answer were: the pay is too low, the work too uninteresting, more interested in another field, just aren't interested in teaching.

Forty out of 102 have decided what college they will attend; 16 will attend college but have no definite school in mind; six will attend business school; 3 will enter nursing school; and 37 will work next year and don't plan to take further school training.

The seniors have chosen a wide range of colleges. Those they named are: State 5, Mary's 5, Guilford 4, Wake Forest 4, Woman's College of U. N. C. 4, Carolina 3, Citadel 2, Duke 2, East Carolina Teacher's College 2, Greensboro College 1, William and Mary 1, Georgia Tech 1, Brenau 1, Veterans' College — Goldsboro 1, Holmes Bible College 1, California State 1, Philadelphia Museum of Art 1, Queen's College 1.

Eighty-seven of the 102 have definitely decided on their occupation and 15 are undecided.

Occupations chosen are: office work 19, salesmanship 8, teaching 6, business 5, mechanic 5, social work 5, nurse 4, interior decoration 4, agriculture 4, engineer 4, radio 2, religious education 2, professional athletics 2, clothes designing 2, journalist 2, piano tuning 1, Advertising designing 1, printing 1, make-up 1, laboratory technician 1, psychiatric assistant 1, vocational home economics 1, doctor 1, embalmer 1, aviation 1, projectionist 1.

Besides the activities mentioned above which GHS seniors will take part in, three of the girls plan to be married and one boy plans to do "just as near nothing as possible."

Three GHS Students Are Elected

Three Goldsboro High School students were elected officers of the Wayne County Future Homemakers of America rally held several days ago at Rosewood High School.

Those elected from Goldsboro are: Gilda Vann, secretary; Bessie Culbreth, historian and Libby Lou Stewart, pianist. Other officers elected to serve with these are: Jennette Thompson, Rosewood, president; Doris Casey, Mt. Olive, vice president; Olza Wooten, Nahunta, treasurer; Eline Casey, Mt. Olive; song leader; Sara Smith, Pikeville, reporter; and Joyce Swinson, parliamentarian.

The program was given in the form of skits by students from Mt. Olive, New Hope, Pikeville, and Grantham. A social hour was given by the hostess school, the Home Economics Cottage, carrying out the Valentine motif.

There were approximately one hundred and twenty delegates attending, with twenty from Goldsboro.

The next county meeting will be held at Grantham with the Goldsboro Club furnishing the program.

Seniors To Show "Seventh Heaven"

"Seventh Heaven," the senior play, is to be presented during the first week in March.

The story centers around Diane (Polly Edgerton), a convert of stolen goods. Chico (William Smith Howell) is a sewer cleaner. He calls himself a free-thinker and he has grown so accustomed to believing himself a remarkable man that he becomes one. He rescues Diane from an evil sister, Nana (Margie Pate). He takes pity upon the girl and proclaims her his wife to save her from being arrested by the Sergeant of the Police (Curtis Lancaster). This is set in a train of events which elevate Chico, Diane, Boul (F. W. Stanley), a rascally taxi driver, Arlette (Claudine Lewis), a barmaid, everyone with whom Chico comes in contact.

Other members of the cast are: the Sewer Worker (Donald Pike), Maximilian Gobin (Daron Ward), Recan (Paul Savage), Brissac (Jerry Sanford), Blonde (Ned Champion), Pere Chevellon (Robert Howell), Aunt Georgette (Robert Andrews), Uncle Valentine (Martha Winslow), Lamp-lighter (Charles Ellis).

The senior class is presenting this play in collaboration with the Goldmasquers.

King, Queen To Be Chosen For Students

Balloting in the contest to name a King and Queen of GHS closed this week. The purpose of the contest was to raise money for the SA.

Results of the contest came too late for this issue of the Hi News. The King and Queen will be given certain privileges such as going first in the lunch line and other similar privileges, usually only given to Seniors.

The nominees from the freshman class were: Martha Ann Rose, G. F. Seymour, and Elton Warrick.

Junior class: Miller Eason, Erlene Griffin, and Bill Taylor. Senior Class: Ruth Caudill, Carlton Frederic, and Margie Perry.

The price to vote was one cent, and a person could vote as many times as he wanted, provided he paid one cent each time.

Standard Invitations Adopted

A standard invitation for the graduating class of G.H.S. has been selected by a special committee, composed of a representative from each of the senior home-rooms and the presidents of each of the four classes.

The committee decided on an invitation on whose cover an outlined etching of the building will appear. The etched design was selected from two types.

Members of the class of "47" will be the first to use the new invitation. The standard invitation, which is of the announcement type, was selected so that each (Continued on Page 6)

Jaycees Make Two Gifts To High School

The Goldsboro Junior Chamber of Commerce recently presented to Goldsboro High School two valuable gifts.

One was $300. for new band uniforms and the other was stage lights, properties and furniture used in Jaycee Follies of 1946, presented to the Goldmasquers.

Ed Howell of the Jaycees presented these gifts to Kenneth Fulghum, representative of the band, and Robert Andrews, president of the Goldmasquers.

Mr. Roy Russell, band instructor, thanked the Jaycees in behalf of the school.

Senior Class Plans For A Supplement

The senior class held their monthly class meeting February 13 to decide important issues concerning the senior play and graduation.

The following teachers were named as advisors to committees: Miss Elizabeth Grant, Senior Week; Mr. W. Barden, ornaments for the stage; Mr. Morris Jeffrey, advertisement; Miss Frances Bayne, reception; Miss Billie Bryan, tickets.

A motion was made and carried that the class accept the offer made by Theo Davis Sons to publish the supplement at a cost of $132 for the first 100 copies and $7.00 for each additional hundred. The class also voted to accept the offer of Wooten and Moulton of Chapel Hill to make glossy prints for the supplement at a price of 15 cents. The pictures will be taken in gowns without caps.

Student chairman for the following committees were announced: Baccalaureate Sermon, Connie Johnson; Senior Day, Gertie Blow; Commencement program, Robert Andrews.

Deadlines for invitations March 1; diploma fee of $2.05, March 1; caps and gowns, $1.00, May 1; were announced.

Another motion that was carried was to purchase a small radio.

Valentine Ball Held by YPO

A Valentine Dance, sponsored by the Young Peoples Organization, was held in the gym of the Community Building Friday night, February 14.

Bob Richardson and his Sentimentalists, a 12-piece orchestra, furnished music.

The gymnasium was decorated in red and white, the colors representing St. Valentine's Day.

The floor show consisted of tap numbers by members of Mrs. Belle Hinnant's dancing class, vocal selections, and piano numbers. George Ball of WGBR acted as master of ceremonies.

Ticket stubs were given out at the door and during the evening a drawing was held and prizes were given away.

American Legion Holds Oratorical Contest Here

The American Legion is sponsoring its tenth annual oratorical contest this spring.

In GHS it was required that every student enter the contest.

The subject is the United States Constitution. From the seventeen topics concerning the Constitution, each student chose one to write a theme on. The topics were: An American Citizen's Rights and Responsibilities Under the Constitution; The Sovereignty of the People—Then and Now; Checks and Balances—Our Basic Governmental Principles; History of the American Constitution; The American Bill of Rights; The Framing Fathers; the Constitution in a Changing World; The Constitution in Our Every-Day Life; Our Presidents and the Constitution; Influence of the Constitution on the New Citizens of Our Republic—A Barrier Against Tyranny; The Constitution—Guardian of the People's Rights; In Defense of Our Constitution; The Constitution—Temple of Liberty; Our Living Constitution; The Privileges and Responsibilities of an American Citizen; The Rights We Defend.

The winners of each high school contest will compete in a county-wide contest to be held between March 10 and 15 in the county seat high school auditorium unless some other place is designated by the county chairman.

The county winners will compete in a district contest held between March 17 and 22, at some central place in each of the 20 Legion districts of the state.

There will be five division contests for the winners of the 20 districts on March 25, 26, 27, 28, and 29.

Each contest will be judged by not less than three nor more than five disinterested judges, selected by the person in charge of that contest.

Judges shall render their decision without conferring and shall grade: (1) Poise and personality, 25 points; 18 on prepared speech and 7 on extemporaneous; (2) Accuracy and effectiveness, 50 points; 25 on prepared speech and 15 on extemporaneous; (3) Power to thrill, quicken, and compel, 25 points; 18 on prepared speech and 7 on extemporaneous.

The oration shall be composed of two parts: (1) A prepared speech of not less than 10 or more than 12 minutes. (2) An extemp-

Eight Students Are Named To Quill and Scroll

Festival To Be Held Here In March

The Eastern Carolina Drama Festival will be held in Goldsboro on March 27, 28, 29.

Over seventy schools have been invited to attend the festival, but it is not yet known how many will come.

Morning, afternoon, and evening sessions will be held during the three-day festival. On the last night radio programs will be presented.

This year the festival will be conducted a bit differently than in previous years. Judges will attend it and decide which plays are eligible for Chapel Hill, rather than have them all go.

A committee has been selected to work on a program for the festival. Although all the material to be in the program is not yet known, it will include pictures, write-ups and ads.

The committee is composed of: Davis Bird and Marilyn Tolochko, co-chairman; Judy Adams, Janie Bartlett, Kitzi Bridgers, Eleanor Brown, Jane Brown, Patsy Donnell, Ruth Edgerton, Charles Ellis, Ashton Griffin, Erlene Griffin, Barbara Hood, "Bo" Kannon, "Liba" Kornegay, "Lew" Langston, Lillian Overman, Jane Parker, Ethel Parks, Anna Frank Strohsider, and Mimi Weil.

Eight students have been recommended for membership into the Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists, according to announcement of Mr. E. L. Roberts, teacher of journalism and advisor to the Hi News staff.

The students are: Connie Johnson, Margie Perry, Nance Potts, Leah Lloyd Rigsbee, Susan Smith, F. W. Stanley, Marilyn Tolochko, and Martha Winslow.

Qualifications for membership into the society are: (1) Candidates may be elected from the Newspaper, Yearbook, Magazine or Handbook Staffs; (2) They must be of junior or senior classification, or post-graduate; (3) They must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing at the time of their election; (4) They must have done superior work in writing, editing, or business management; (5) They must be recommended by the adviser; (6) They must be approved by the Executive Secretary of the Society.

Mr. Roberts stated that the scholarship requirement eliminated some who otherwise might have been recommended to membership.

Brotherhood Program Held Here

In observance of National Brotherhood Week, Father Hyland, representing the Catholic Denomination, Rev. Leonard Russell, the Protestant churches, and Rabbi J. G. Tolochko, the Jewish faith, spoke at an S. A. Devotion on the importance of people learning to live with their fellowmen, without prejudice and hatred in their hearts. The meeting was February 19, in the school auditorium.

Mr. Seymour Brown, being introduced the speakers, explained the meaning of National Brotherhood Week. The organization was begun in 1928 to bring together, in a better fellowship and understanding, different religious denominations in the world.

The speaker's talks all centered around the presence of hatred and prejudice in the world. In his speech, Father Hyland stated, "Hate is condemned, not only by the laws of God, but also by the laws of nature." Many interesting points were brought out by all three speakers.

At the beginning of the program Eloise Baulkum sang, "Ave Maria, accompanied at the piano by Audrey Garris.

The Glee Club, at the close of the program gave two selections directed by Mr. Roy Russell, instructor of music.

These meetings were held throughout North Carolina, with prominent Jewish, Protestant and Catholic laymen and clergymen speaking over the radio as well as at schools and colleges.
